IS HELD PRISONER ON $1,000,000 JUDGMENT

Former President of Carbon Steel Co. in Charge of Deputies in His Home.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NORWALK, CONN., Nov. 29.—Charles Munson Raymond, former president of the Carbon Steel Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., with New York offices in the Havermeyer building, 26 Cortlandt street, was arrested on a body writ last evening at his country home, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour C. Curtis, at 29 North avenue, this city, for the alleged conversion of $1,000,000 worth of the Carbon Steel Company's capital stock. Damages of $1,000,000 are claimed.

A bond of $1,000,000, which the officers required, has not yet been furnished, but in deference to the position and health of the prisoner, he has not been removed from his home, the two deputies being domiciled there with him. They will remain with him until the case comes before the superior court at Bridgeport. The complainants in the case are John D. Slayback and wife of New York, who secured judgment against the defendant for the large amount two years ago. Slayback seeks to recover 10,000 shares of Carbon Steel stock with dividends for 10 years back, which it is alleged he transferred temporarily to Raymond 10 years ago, while in financial difficulties.

A second suit was brought against the prisoner this afternoon, when Deputy Sheriff C. F. Hendrie of Stamford served papers on him, ordering him to appear before Justice Merritt at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in Bridgeport, and give an accounting of the affairs of the Carbon Steel Company.

John D. Slayback, who caused Mr. Raymond's arrest, won an action involving almost a controlling interest in the stock of the old Carbon Steel Company of New Jersey, which, he asserts, was turned over to Raymond under an agreement. Slayback discovered, he asserts, that Raymond was not acting according to agreement and demanded the return of the stock. Raymond, it is alleged, refused, and offered no explanation until brought into court by Mr. Slayback, when he explained that he had given the stock away, naming various persons as the recipients of the gift.

R. W. Anderson, one of the local officials of the Carbon Steel Company, stated last night that Mr. Raymond had been succeeded as president of the company about one and one-half years ago by James Kilduff, and that the sale of the stock leading up to this transfer, was doubtless the basis of the suit brought by John D. Slayback and wife against the former president.

DEATH ENDS PISTOL DUEL.

Fight Over a Woman and Her Daughter Between Altoona Men Ends Fatally for One.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 29.—John Connor, aged 26 years, today shot and killed Charles Prough, aged 25 years, in a pistol duel between the two men at Prough's house. Twelve shots were fired. The shooting occurred over Connor's wife and child. Mrs. Connor claimed that she could not live with her husband and went to keep house for Prough, whose wife died some time ago.

Connor was shot in the head and seriously injured. Taking his child he started for his home, but was captured by the police before he reached the house.

DEAF MUTE MAY COME IN.

Pittsburgh Man Who Adopts Little One from Far-Off India Is Given His Charge.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Upon the representation of Charles Myles, of Pittsburgh, that Miss Mocktie Wood, the deaf mute girl from India, would not become a public charge, her admission to this country at the port of Boston was today authorized by the department of commerce and labor.

The girl was brought to this country for the purpose of receiving an education and her landing was objected to by the immigration officials.

WILLIAM I. JONES DIES AFTER AN OPERATION

Prominent Business Man and Official of Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company Passes Away.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MONONGAHELA, PA., Nov. 29.—William Ivill Jones, secretary and treasurer of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company, died at 10:30 o'clock last night at the Memorial hospital. Mr. Jones was operated upon 10 days ago for appendicitis.

Mr. Jones was a son of James Jones, the founder of the Jones interests, and was born in Greenock, Allegheny county, December 5, 1869. When he was 10 years old, the family removed to Mansfield, now Carnegie, and when he was 13 years of age the family removed to Monongahela, Pa. At the age of 14 years, he began his education in mining and at the age of 15 he was placed in charge of the hauling of coal for his father.

One year later Mr. Jones became manager of the transportation department for his father's mines and was also made general manager of the company store at the Ivill mine. He was later made manager of the various stores connected with the mines owned by the Jones interests and after the acquisition of those properties by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company he still continued as manager of stores for that corporation. He resigned his position in 1901 and joined his brothers in the formation of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company. He occupied various positions with that company and in January, 1904, he was selected as the treasurer of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company, and was made general manager of the five stores and other business of the White Rock Supply Company.

Mr. Jones was largely interested in financial affairs, being a director of the First National bank of Monongahela, director of the First National bank of Finleyville, Pa., and director of the First National bank of Wilson, Pa. He was a director and treasurer of the Young Men's Christian association of Monongahela; director of the public schools of Monongahela, having served one year as secretary. He was serving a second term as president of the board of education. He also served a number of years as a councilman of Monongahela.

He was also quite active in church affairs, being a vestryman of St. Paul's Episcopal church of Monongahela. He was a member of the Union club of Pittsburgh and other clubs in various places.

Mr. Jones was a past exalted ruler of the local Elks lodge, a member of the Carnegie library board and the board of education, and one of Monongahela's most prominent business men. He was a brother of John H. Jones, president of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company.

FASTEN HEAVY IRON TO RAILROAD TRACK

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—A daring attempt to wreck a train on the Central Railroad of New Jersey was discovered today at a point near Alden, six miles from here, by Trackwalker Wilson Herman. He found an 80-pound piece of iron fastened to the track on the low side of a curve over a 50-foot embankment.

SULTAN PREPARES TO UNLOAD ALL THE BLAME

Rumor That Grand Vizier is to Be Made Official Scapegoat and Porte Will Break Down.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 29.—The paragraph in the sultan's note in reply to the ultimatum of the powers containing a warning that the action of the powers in resorting to a naval demonstration might precipitate an international uprising against the Christian population of Turkey has created no uneasiness here. Well informed persons say such a clause was to be expected.

There may be disturbances in the provinces when the occupation of Mytilene becomes known, but it is not likely that anything serious will occur. The sultan is too clever to permit any act that might bring the fleet to Constantinople.

It is again persistently rumored that Ferid Pasha, the grand vizier, is about to be dismissed. This is taken to mean that the sultan is seeking an excuse for giving way, a change of policy being frequently preceded by a change in the head of the temporal government. The blame for the failure of a policy is always thrown on the outgoing grand vizier.

The occupation of Mytilene by the allied forces has had no effect on the population of Constantinople, which is celebrating the Bairam festival, but advices from Adrianople and Salonica report apprehensions of trouble in the event of the prolongation of the present situation. There has been an alarming increase in the number of murders of Bulgarians by Mussulmanns in the villayat of Salonica during the last few days.

The ambassadors are doubtful whether they will receive any further communications from the porte on the subject of the demands of the powers until the celebration of the Bairam festival is concluded.

MYTILENE, ISLAND OF MYTILENE, Nov. 29.—All is quiet here today. The landing of the international contingent Sunday with the subsequent occupation of the customs and postal buildings was carried out without arousing any demonstration of the part of Turks. So peaceful is the population that 500 out of the 800 men landed from the allied fleet subsequently were withdrawn, their continued presence being deemed by the commanders as quite unnecessary.

He Thought Explosion Was Thunder.

BELLEVERNON, PA., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Burglars early today entered the general store of Charles Fekula at Pricedale near here. A safe weighing 600 pounds was carried 250 feet from the building and the door blown off. Fekula, who lives over the store, thought the noise was thunder. Only a few dollars in change was secured.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The great storm which has been ravaging the lakes for two days still collects its toll of death and destruction. After a night of agony nine men, members of the crew of the steamer Mataafa, sank into icy graves today near Duluth. Others reached shore after a thrilling battle with the waves.

The story of the Mataafa is the story of a boat beached and doomed by one of the worst storms that ever raged over Lake Superior. Reports come from points along the upper lakes telling of death, distress and destruction. A score of boats are masses of debris, many lives have been lost and many others are in jeopardy. Several steamers are missing and it is feared they are tossing unmanned upon the angry waves.

Enormous Loss Reported.

On Lake Superior the Angeline, the Madeira and a scow with five men are missing. On Lake Huron the James Morratt and the Mohegan have been lost to view or communication, and on Lake Erie the Panther cannot be found. The William Edenborn ran into Split Rock this morning and is now stranded there. One man was drowned in that case. The property loss probably will exceed $2,000,000.

A wind that at times reached a velocity of 75 miles an hour swept cargoes and craft to destruction. Five lives probably have been lost in the wreck of a scow at Two Islands. She sailed Sunday night loaded with provisions in tow of the tug Gillette. Off Two Islands the scow broke away and the tug put back for Two Harbors, arriving there yesterday.

In Chicago there was a drop of 45 degrees in seven hours, but there is no suffering. St. Paul expects a temperature of seven below tomorrow morning. All Iowa points report very cold weather, the sudden change causing much suffering and loss to live stock.

Throughout the southwest the temperature fell 40 degrees in 12 hours, accompanied by snow. The storm is moving eastward, considerably broken in its intensity. Cities of the northwest are still snowed under and the coal famine is nearing the acute point.

The Loss of the Mataafa.

At the mouth of the Duluth ship canal yesterday afternoon the life-saving crew made desperate but futile efforts to get a line on the Mataafa. In the

Cold Weather Today

Intense cold with high wind will be the weather meted out to Pittsburgh for Thanksgiving. The cold wave began to make itself felt about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The mercury dropped from 51 at 4 o'clock to 45 in an hour, and kept going down all night. The minimum today will be from 20 to 25. The coldest place on the map last night was Havre, N. D., which showed 16 below zero.

There will be from 16 to 18 feet of water in the rivers by tonight, when the crest of the rise is expected. The heavy rains of the past two days scared a number of people along the rivers, but the cold wave has dissipated danger of a flood.

RACE TRACK GAMBLERS START FIRE TO OUTWIT THE POLICE

When Raiders Reach the Building in Which They Are Trapped the Paraphernalia Is in Flames and Panic Ensues.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Fire was used to baffle the police today in one of the biggest race track poolroom raids made in New York during recent months. Forty men were arrested in the raid. The alleged poolroom was on East Eighth street, on the third floor of a five-story building.

When the police appeared, paraphernalia was heaped on the floor of the room and set on fire. Although the building itself caught fire, the men in the room locked themselves in behind steel-barred doors and raising the window so that the smoke could escape they shouted in unison: "Fire! Fire."

A panic immediately broke out in another part of the building among factory girls who rushed down the stairs upon the police and who had to be rescued and quieted before the raid could continue.

The streets below were filled with a howling crowd, whose efforts to find the fire and to help the girls still more impeded the police. When the officers entered the room the last vestige of what they charge was the evidence which they hoped to secure was burning on the floor. The fire had already spread to one of the walls, but was extinguished by the police.

DIAMOND QUEEN IN JAIL.

Makes Desperate Attempts at Suicide When Arrested, but Is Landed in Safety.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Eva Warner of Chicago was brought here today from Chicago charged with stealing 378 diamonds, valued at $15,000. The police say that the woman confessed that she stole the diamonds in New York from a diamond dealer last spring.

The Warner woman was arrested recently in Chicago when she attempted to sell some of the stones to a jeweler there. During the trip to this city she attempted to commit suicide by opening an artery in her wrist, and later she tried to jump from the train.

FINDLAY, Nov. 29.—(Special.)—When Mayor-elect J. N. Walker takes his seat there will be a prayer meeting held in his office. During the campaign Mr. Walker, who is a Democrat, met a Republican friend who is an earnest church worker. Dr. Walker solicited his vote.

"I'll vote for you, Jim, if you will allow me to hold a prayermeeting in your office on the day you take your seat," said the friend. "Agreed," replied the office seeker. Now he says he will keep his word.

Rebel Ships Taken or Sunk and Mutineer's Fortress Gained by Assault.

FLAG GOES UNDER

Cruiser Otchakoff, Revolutionist's Flagship, Now Only a Burning Wreck.

RUSSIA CUT OFF FROM WORLD

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 29.—Sebastopol was today the scene of a desperate battle between the mutinous sailors and the troops in the forts on shore.

During the battle the town and the forts were bombarded by the guns of the cruiser Otchakoff, which now lies a burning wreck off Admiralty Point, its hull riddled with shells and its taunting red ensign of revolution hauled down. Many of the crew of the Otchakoff were killed or wounded.

According to one report the barracks of the mutineers was carried by storm after the mutinous fleet, which is said to have numbered 10 vessels, had surrendered, and the whole position is now in the hands of the troops under the command of Gen. Nepluefl. The Associated Press, however, is unable to guarantee the correctness of this report.

Owing to the interruption of the telegraph, details of the battle are difficult to obtain, but, as the Associated Press is authoritatively informed by the naval general staff tonight, the battle was begun by the troops on shore who opened fire on the Otchakoff, which was defiantly displaying the red flag. The commander of the Otchakoff, Lieut. Schmidt, immediately accepted the challenge, replying with both batteries, operated on the town and the other on the Fort Alexander batteries on the north shore.

Red Flag Is Hauled Down.

Capt. Zilotti, aide-de-camp to Admiral Wirenius, chief of the naval general staff, informed the Associated Press that the latest dispatches received from Sebastopol showed that the Otchakoff was on fire and badly riddled, with its revolutionary colors hauled down, but he was unable to give more definite information.

According to a more detailed report received from another source, and purporting to come from the admiralty, the battle began at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when Lieut. Schmidt, not receiving a reply to the demands of the mutineers, opened fire from a fleet of 10 ships, to which the northern batteries at Fort Alexander, artillery posted on the shore and several vessels which remained loyal replied.

During the naval battle the sailors on shore, entrenched in the barracks, defended their position with machine guns and rifles against the attacking infantry. After an engagement lasting two and one-half hours, with the Otchakoff riddled and on fire and the cruiser Dnieper and another vessel sunk, Lieut. Schmidt, who had been badly wounded, surrendered the entire squadron. The mutinous sailors on shore surrendered to the Brest and Bielostok regiments.

According to this report the Bentelemon (formerly the Kniaz Potemkine) was injured below the water line and a torpedo boat is ashore on the rocks.

No details of the casualties or of the damage suffered by the town are obtainable by the admiralty, but owing to the confined space in which the action was fought it is improbable that the town escaped without heavy damage.

The demands of the mutineers are said to have included, besides the 15 proposals dealing with service conditions, the convocation of a constituent assembly and the complete realization of the liberties promised by the imperial manifesto.

Russia Is Isolated.

The operators of the St. Petersburg telegraphs have decided to strike at midnight.

It is not known whether communication can be maintained, as most of the military operators were arrested yesterday for sedition, and as the cable operators, though they are foreigners, may be intimidated into leaving their keys.

The line to Finland is still working.

The situation has again suddenly grown exceedingly grave. The Russian capital is shut off from telegraphic communication with the interior. The Pan-Russian strike of the telegraph operators declared yesterday has gone into operation and the workmen's council is deliberating whether to declare a general political strike throughout Russia tomorrow, predicating this time on the alleged unwarranted arrest of the members of the peasants' congress at Moscow, and also calling on the people to compel the employers of St. Petersburg, who locked out 70,000 men, to open their doors.

The telegraph strike draws an impenetrable curtain between the capital and the provinces which in such a crisis renders the position of the government almost desperate as being in instant and constant touch with the military and local authorities in the interior is imperative.

Operators Demand Liberty.

The telegraphers' strike is the direct outgrowth of the government's circular prohibiting telegraph operators from joining a union, which prohibition is attributed to M. Durnovo, minister of the interior, for whose removal from office the Radicals are vigorously working. The minister recently summarily discharged the leaders of the Moscow union and yesterday their colleagues sent a 12-hour ultimatum to M. Durnovo and Premier Witte demanding the reinstatement of the dismissed men and the withdrawal of the obnoxious circular. No answer being forthcoming at the specified time the strike was declared. The telegraphers of Moscow after leaving their keys held a meeting in an adjoining building and upon the appearance of the police and troops sent to break up the meeting, they declared firmly that they would not disperse even if the authorities used force.

The Slovo, which is supporting Count Witte, has become exceedingly pessimistic. It says that revolution constitutes a double danger, since every success of the revolutionists enables the reactionaries to point out the danger of continuing the reform program, while every turn of the wheel backward stimulates the revolutionists to make new attacks on the government.

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—5:05 p. m.—The imperial postoffice announces that all telegraphic communication with Russia has been interrupted since noon.

VIENNA, Nov. 29.—Vienna is cut off from communication with Russia, except by way of Cracow, and thence by mail.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Mr. Meyer, the American ambassador to Russia, saw Foreign Secretary Lansdowne yesterday while passing through London. One of the objects of his visit was to obtain the views of the British foreign office regarding the removal of British subjects from St. Petersburg. The British government did not consider the situation as serious as previously, and therefore thought there was no need of immediate action. No intimation is yet forthcoming as to whether today's strike news has altered the views of the government. Mr. Meyer left London today for Paris and Berlin, and will arrive in St. Petersburg early next week.

BOTH SIDES FIRM IN THE STATE COLLEGE STRIKE

Participants Have Made No Advances and Students Remain Quiet—Sentiment Is Divided.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

STATE COLLEGE, PA., Nov. 29.—The students' strike here still continues today. It is an unusually quiet strike, and the silence of the boys is regarded as ominous of what may follow. About 150 students accompanied the football team to Pittsburgh today for Thanksgiving day game, but the majority, if not all of them, will return on Friday.

Now that the strike has held fire as long as it has there cannot be anything done until after tomorrow, as the two days Thanksgiving vacation, which the faculty wanted to grant, began today. The majority of the students have not taken advantage of the vacation and have remained here. So far as is known the faculty is as firm in their stand as when the ultimatum was delivered in the chapel.

The students declare they will never give in. Public sentiment is about evenly divided. So far the students have been well behaved and orderly, and it is not thought any trouble will be precipitated. It is hardly likely that either side will make any advance toward a settlement of the trouble before the beginning of next week.

POLES BLOW OUT GAS.

Pittsburghers in Baltimore Make Fatal Mistake—Two Are Dead and One Dying.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29.—Three Polish railroad laborers engaged a room in a small hotel soon after midnight last night. This morning two of them, Alexis Vistorsky and Joseph Kominski, were dead, and the third, Andrew Kolwelko, is in a hospital with small chances of recovery.

All three men are said to have come from Pittsburgh. It is thought one of them blew out the gas or accidentally turned it on after extinguishing it.

POLICY HOLDERS TOLD TO HOLD ON

Senator Armstrong Says Insurance Companies Are Better Now Than Before.

INVESTIGATION HELPS THEM

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The resignation of Richard A. McCurdy as president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company was the most important development of the life insurance situation today. Mr. McCurdy is succeeded temporarily by Frederic Cromwell, the treasurer of the company, but it is understood the position has been offered to James H. Eckels who was comptroller of the currency during the administration of President Cleveland, and now is president of the Commercial National bank of Chicago.

President McCurdy's management of the affairs of the company has been the subject of inquiry by the legislative investigating committee, which brought out the fact that during his presidency very large commissions were paid to his son, Robert H. McCurdy, and his son-in-law, Louis A. Thebaud, President McCurdy said that he was impelled to resign by considerations of his health. The outcome of the struggle to secure control of the Mutual Life Insurance Company is awaited with interest.

Advice to Policy-Holders.

One interesting feature of the investigation today was the issuance of a "Thanksgiving proclamation to the policyholders by Senator William W. Armstrong, chairman of the investigating committee, in which he advised them against allowing their policies to lapse because of anything revealed in the investigation, and told them they are in a better position now than before the investigation began, and that the committee would recommend legislation to safeguard their interests.

Charles P. McClelland, a former state senator from Westchester county, testified before the committee today that he lived in the Mutual Life Insurance Company's house in Albany, conducted by Andrew C. Fields, in 1903, when he was a senator and member of the insurance committee of that body. He stated that it never occurred to him as improper, as he and Fields were old friends.

Mr. McClelland said the Fields house was as quiet as any in Albany. It was not a house of entertainment. He never saw but two members of the legislature in there, and they came to see him, not Fields.

Mr. Hughes showed witness 10 vouchers for money paid McClelland by the Mutual Life from February, 1899, to March, 1902. McClelland said he was not then a member of the legislature. The first was for $750 for legal expenses. On the upper corner was the word "Fields." Witness thought the word was in Fields' handwriting.

Was Another Attorney.

In those years witness was under retainer to the Mutual Life of not less than $3,000 a year by arrangement with Fields and one other man. This arrangement was terminated in 1902. He did not receive a salary from the Mutual Life while he was in the senate in 1905. In some years he received more than $3,000, but he was obliged to submit an itemized bill for the extra amount. Only once did he appear for the Mutual at Albany and make an argument.

His appearance for the Mutual at Albany was in 1900. Gov. Odell was then trying to pass his indirect tax bills, he said. The Mutual was opposed to the franchise tax bill and the savings bank tax bill. He appeared before the senate committee in opposition to the savings bank bill. He also drafted some bills for the Mutual.

McClelland said he knew Louis F. Murray, a lawyer of Dobbs Ferry, who was a clerk for Townsend & McClelland from 1891 to 1895, but does not know where he is now. He did not know what services Murray had rendered the Mutual Life.

John C. McCall, secretary of the New York Life Insurance Company and son of President McCall, was asked if the payment of $59,310 to Andrew Hamilton to settle up advances made by J. P. Morgan & Co. was on the books of the New York Life as charged to legal expenditures. He said it was not, nor the payment of $18,000 by the New York Security and Trust Company to Andrew Hamilton on the books of the New York Life. Mr. McCall offered the committee a cablegram which he said was received yesterday by the New York Life Insurance Company from Mr. Ingersoll, the Paris agent of the company, saying President McCall's letter to Andrew Hamilton, asking him to come to New York, has been delivered to Hamilton in Paris. McCall also presented a cablegram to Mr. Ingersoll, in which President McCall informs the Paris agent that he is sending John C. McCall to Europe next Saturday to attempt to induce Hamilton to return to the United States or, if he is unsuccessful in this, to attempt to procure from Hamilton an accounting for money received by him from the New York Life. Mr. Hughes asked Mr. McCall to get an order from Hamilton to his agents here to surrender his papers to Mr. McCall. This the witness promised to do.

Why Salaries Increase.

George D. Eldredge, first vice president and actuary of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Insurance Company, was the next witness. Mr. Hughes asked why the Mutual Reserve company had increased salaries at a time when it was being compelled to make extra assessments upon policy-holders. Mr. Eldredge said the company needed the best possible service of such a time and that the officers who did the hard work of rectifying errors for which they were not to blame, were entitled to a fair recompense.

The committee and all of its counsel held a protracted executive session at the close of the day's hearing, after which it was announced that the committee would complete the investigation by December 31, as it is due to report to the new legislature in the first week in January. The committee will sit five days next week and through the Christmas holiday week.

M'CURDY SERIOUSLY ILL.

President of Mutual Life Breaks Down Under Strain of Legislative Inquiry.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Broken down by the scandals unearthed in the investigation of the business methods of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, Richard A. McCurdy, its former president, lies seriously ill at his home in this city.

It is said Mr. McCurdy is suffering from nervous prostration. Not until the last two days, it is said, did he show signs of collapse. Under instructions of his physician, he had taken drives about an d kept in the open air as much as possible, but now is confined to his home. His physician, Dr. George S. Willis, refused to talk of Mr. McCurdy's condition tonight, as he did not regard his illness at present as dangerous.

Mr. Eckels Seems Willing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Not denying, but rather intimating that he might accept the presidency of the Mutual if it were offered to him, James H. Eckels, h. the Hotel Gotham tonight, said no such offer had yet reached him. "I do not care to say whether I would accept the position of president of the Mutual. A salary of $150,000 a year is rather attractive."

NEW PARTY WILL ENTER CAMPAIGN

Application Is Made for Use of the Title of Municipal Ownership.

BIGELOW'S NAME CONNECTED

A Municipal Ownership party will be organized and have a ticket in the field for mayor in the coming city campaign in February, if certain individuals can secure the title. Affidavits for the use of the name, "Municipal Ownership Party of Pittsburgh," were filed yesterday in court by Charles G. Grubb, Alexander Black, Waldo P. Breeden, Joseph B. Gloekler and J. C. Roberts.

The petitioners are all practically unknown in local politics except Charles G. Grubb, who has always been regarded as affiliated with the Citizens party. For two years past he has been the recipient of the contract from the administration for the fireworks display on the Fourth of July, this contract each time amounting to about $8,000.

About 10 days ago Director Bigelow forecasted the appearance of a Municipal Ownership ticket and candidates in the February campaign and stated that a candidate, running on a platform pledged to the municipal ownership of public utilities, such as the light plant and the street car system, might be a big factor in the contest for the mayoralty. This statement, when recalled yesterday, led to the suspicion that possibly Director Bigelow might have something to do with the organization of the Municipal Ownership party. Mr. Grubb denied this, however.

"The Municipal Ownership party in this city has nothing whatever to do with the Citizens or any other party," he said. "Mr. Bigelow has no connection with the movement. We will nominate some good men for mayor and he will run on a platform in favor of the municipal ownership of street railways, light plant and all other public utilities. There are now about 300 in the party. We organized a week ago in the office of Attorney J. H. Myers in the Park building."

LIFE SAVERS AT WORK

presence of thousands of people who watched the scene breathlessly, the line was fired over the ship from the cannon three times. Once it caught and those of the forward end of the boat where it landed began to haul it in, but the rocks on the bottom of the canal cut the rope in two. At midnight the officials of the company owning the boat, advised the life saving crew to give it up until daylight saying that the men on the forward part were safe enough until morning. On the stern end of the Matsafa not a sign of life had been detected since shortly after dark.

The dead: William Most, Cleveland, chief engineer; Claude A. Erringer, Cleveland, first assistant engineer; James Early, Buffalo, New York, second assistant engineer; Carl Carlson, Chicago, oiler; William Gilchrist, Warton, Ont., oiler; Thomas S. Woodgate, shipped at Conneaut, fireman; James Settle, shipped at Conneaut, deckhand; J. H. Wright, Cleveland, steward; Walter Bush, Amherst, second cook.

The saved: Capt. R. F. Humble, Conneaut, Ohio; W. F. Brown, Detroit, first mate; H. W. Emigh, Lexington, Mich., second mate; J. W. Haich, Duluth, wheelman; George McClure, Amadore, Michigan, wheelman; Grantley West, Detroit, Watchman; Ernest Deitz, Canada, watchman; Axel Carlson, Chicago, fireman; Edward Coulter, fireman; Charles Fyrne, fireman; Thomas McLoud, deckhand, Harry Larson, Superior, deck hand; Leon Yake, Lexington, Michigan, deckhand; Louis Yake, Lexington, Michigan, deckhand; Fred Saunders, Amhersburg, porter.

The night on the Matsafa was a fearful one to the living men to say nothing of the terrible torture that must have fallen to the lot of those who died.

The poor fellows on the stern end of the boat had little protection. In the lee of the engine house they could find no shelter for the waves covered the deck to the height of the rail. They finally climbed up under the shelter of the big smokestack, but wet as they were and with the biting cold they could not long stand the exposure and were last seen slipping down the ventilators, apparently to find protection, but in all probability going to death by drowning.

The fifteen men forward first took shelter in the wheelman's cabin, but the water soon drove them out and they went to the captain's cabin. The waves drove in the windows and doors and all night long they, half frozen, danced about the little cabin trying to keep warm. Their danger from the elements outside was passed, but the fight against the cold was a bitter one.

Two Men Killed in an Explosion.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Two men were killed and several others injured by an explosion tonight at the Pennsylvania steel works. D. T. WATSON WILL DRAFT NEW BILL

Geo. W. Guthrie to Assist in Greater City Plans of Chamber of Commerce.

APPEAL OF ALLEGHENIANS

D. T. Watson and George W. Guthrie have been retained by the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce to frame the new Greater Pittsburgh bill that is expected to be enacted by the legislature, convening in extra session on January 15, and which, it is expected, the supreme court will affirm.

The fact that the services of Mr. Watson and Mr. Guthrie had been secured was reported yesterday to the municipal affairs committee of the chamber of commerce by the chairman of the committee, H. D. W. English, who had been delegated to consult these two lawyers.

A full membership of the committee was present yesterday, including Chairman English, Col. A. J. Logan, William L. Jones, Oliver McClintock, W. H. Stevenson, R. B. Mellon and Lee S. Smith. The committee unanimously approved Chairman English's report.

Chairman English stated that Messrs. Watson and Guthrie had expressed their deep interest and belief that that a bill could be prepared which would be constitutional and fair to the people, comprising the proposed Greater Pittsburgh. They declared their willingness to jointly take up the work of preparing such a bill as expeditiously as possible.

Chairman English called attention of the committee to the fact that these two men will bring to bear on the work before them a thorough knowledge of municipal affairs and of the constitution of Pennsylvania. Each is a distinguished citizen of the two cities to be consolidated, Mr. Watson being a citizen of Allegheny, and Mr. Guthrie of Pittsburgh.

A letter was read from citizens of Allegheny asking the committee to take up the matter of Greater Pittsburgh. The letter was signed by prominent business men and residents of Allegheny, among whom were the following:

Boggs & Buhl, Calvin Wells, W. H. Singer, Charles A. Painter, J. D. Lyon, James H. Childs, Charles N. Hanna, First National bank of Allegheny, by W. L. Guckert, vice president; John F. Neihaus, John G. Fressing, Samuel McKnight Hardware Company, W. A. Steele, Spandau & Spandau, T. J. Ritter, E. A. Hess Company, Theodore Frey, M. C. Stitt, Strassburger & Joseph, W. J. Schmidt, D. J. Ritter, Schellhase Brothers, L. T. Greenfield, R. W. Cartwright, Boerlche & Tafel, W. L. Scott & Co., H. Flechsig & Co. and Ritchie Wall Paper Company.

A resolution was unanimously adopted that an invitation be extended to the members of the legislature from Allegheny county to appear before the committee and co-operate with it in furthering the proposed bill.

The directors of the sub-district schools at a meeting last night in the Forbes street school, approved a report recommending the appointment of a committee of five school directors to look after legislation respecting the school systems of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, in connection with the proposed Greater Pittsburgh bill. It was recommended that this committee should act in conjunction with similar representatives from Allegheny and Scranton.

REVENUE BREAKS RECORD.

Fiscal Year Ends With Most Notable Collections in State's History.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—(Special.)—All records have been broken in the receipts of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the fiscal year which ends today. The total revenue for this year was about $24,250,000. The next largest yearly revenue was $22,500,000, in 1902. Close collection of taxes by the auditor general's department, including $1,000,000 of delinquent taxes, has been largely responsible for the enormous increase.

Notwithstanding extraordinary expenses of the state government during the past year, the revenues have largely exceeded the outlay. The entire state school appropriation of $5,500,000 has been paid out of the year's revenue, as compared with previous years, when at least half of it was permitted to go over into the succeeding year.

TREASURY GETS BIG SUM.

Unclaimed Money Orders for $738,516 Have Accumulated at Postoffices During Year.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Through the failure of many persons to take up money orders made out to them, a considerable amount of money has accumulated in the postoffice department from various postoffices. There was on hand at the close of the last fiscal year $738,516 of such funds, which up to that time had been unclaimed, and under the provisions of an act of congress passed at the last session, the money was today turned into the treasury.

Should any of the claimants make their appearance and desire their orders cashed, it will be necessary to make application at any money order office and in due time payment will be made by treasury warrant.

MERIWETHER TELLS HIS STORY OF FIGHT

Defense Has Closed Its Case in the Court-Martial of Midshipman at Annapolis.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—Midshipman Minor Meriwether today told his story of his fight with Midshipman James R. Branch, Jr., which was followed by the death of Branch. He closed it with the words:

"I have never seen him since. We parted as friends."

He was testifying in his own behalf before the court martial which is trying him on charges that embrace one of manslaughter in connection with the death of Branch.

Meriwnether was on the witness stand an hour and a half, testifying in detail as to the fight and the incidents that led to it. His evidence excited greater interest than has any previous portion of the trial and while speaking the accused was at times visibly affected. When he left the witness stand the defense rested.

The prosecution called in rebuttal several midshipmen. Dr. Thomas, neurologist of the Johns Hopkins hospital, Surgeon Byrnes, of the Naval academy, and Capt. George P. Colvocoresses, commandant of midshipmen. It is expected that argument of counsel will be concluded and the case given to the court on Friday.

Midshipman Joseph R. Williams, of Paterson, N. J., a member of the first class of the Navay academy, who testified before the court martial yesterday was this morning dropped from the navy for general inefficiency by order of Secretary Bonaparte.

Midshipman Williams testified yesterday that Commander Hugo Osterhaus had reported a midshipman for not resenting an insult. He was not dropped on account of this testimony reflecting on a naval officer, but, it is stated, because he has been unsatisfactory in several of his studies during the present term and was set back a class last year. Since that time his conduct is also said to have become unsatisfactory. The superintendent's recommendation that he be dismissed was made before the Meriwether court martial proceedings began. Williams was a leading member of the Academy track team.

TURKEY FOR PRESIDENT.

Horace Vose Sends 31-Pound Bird and Its Picture for White House Thanksgiving.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Thanksgiving day will be appropriately and traditionally observed at the White House for the Vose turkey has arrived, a monster bird, weighing 31 pounds. Horace Vose of Westerly, R. I., has gratuitously provided every President since Grant with a Thanksgiving turkey every year. That President Roosevelt and his family might realize just how fine a gobbler he was before his life was taken to make a President's holiday, a photograph of the turkey was sent with the box to which the turkey made the trip from the Vose farm in Rhode Island.

The Thanksgiving day dinner at the White House will be informal, the guests being restricted to a few personal friends. Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt and some of the younger members of the family will probably spend a part of the afternoon in the country. Miss Alice Roosevelt arrived from her trip in New England. She is reported much improved.

Morgan Will Buy the C. H. & D.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—(Special.)—A statement issued from the office of the Erie Railroad Company today said that the purchase of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railway might involve obligations on the part of the company and it had been decided by the board of directors to accept the offer of J. Pierpont Morgan, to assume and complete the purchase on his own account.

STORES CLOSED TODAY

W. M. LAIRD CO.

JOSEPH HORNE CO.

Thursday, November 30, 1905. | Weather—Snow. | Penn Avenue and Fifth Street.

Our Store Will Not Be Open Today.

Tomorrow the Christmas Hustle and Bustle Begins.

THE Christmas season this year is a week short—it always starts in immediately after Thanksgiving, and Thanksgiving this year is a week late. So we have but three weeks and a day or two in which to transact the tremendous buying that will be done this Christmas season.

To those who enjoy the maximum of comfort it is advisable to use the morning hours—more room, salespeople with more leisure to wait upon you intelligently.

Below is a series of statements that should have the very best attention of that great portion of our public which likes to buy economically. The ready-to-wear garments and the silks, the velvets and dress goods are a splendid study in economy.

The news is given this Thanksgiving morning so women will have plenty of time to read and reread it through the day, and be prepared to take advantage of the offers early tomorrow.

TOMORROW A SALE OF

Some Are of Cloth and Some Are of Velvet.

WE want these suits to find their proper usefulness in the next day or two. We make the prices sharp enough and positive enough to take them away tomorrow as fast as women can select and carry them off.

They are made up of our latest, our most stylish, our smartest suits—not a poor style nor an old style in the lot.

The Styles are: Eton—Tuxedo—Paletot—Pony Coats—52-inch-length coats—semi-blouse coat with skirts in different late models.
The materials are: Velvets—Broadcloths—Venetians—Worsteds—Serges—Cheviots, in addition to many novelties.
SPECIAL NOTICE—Garments bought in this sale on which alterations are necessary will positively be delivered in one week from day after purchase.

We submit some further detail in the following:

LOT NO. 1.
$15.00 worth $20.00 to $35.00.

This lot includes black, blue and brown cheviots, serges and Panamas, light grey mixtures, and some black with white and brown with white checkered worsteds. They are made up in blouse and eton effects, hip length, and some three-quarter length coats.

They are all lined in fine taffetas.

For an every-day suit any of these suits will be found very acceptable. They are admirable for just such service.

LOT NO. 2.
$25.00 worth $35.00 to $50.00

This lot includes black, blue and brown broadcloth, cheviots, serges, Panamas and fine worsteds, fancy black, blue and garnet serges, fancy mixtures and light and dark grey fine worsteds. An endless variety of styles, including blouse and eton effects, hip length coats in plain or jaunty military effects, three-quarter and full length coats. A few sample suits among these.

All are lined in fine taffeta or guaranteed satin.

LOT NO. 3.
$35.00 worth $50.00 to $65.00.

Choice cloth suits and a few fine velvet suits as well. All colors are well represented, such as black, blue, brown, plum, green, garnet in different shades in fine broadcloths, imported serges, worsteds and cheviots. Also some fine mixtures in light and dark effects.

The variety of styles is endless, including everything from an eton to the long coat coming to the ankle, and from the loose box to the tight-fitting corset coat.

LOT NO. 4.
$50.00 worth $70.00 to $100.00.

This choice group of exclusive suits of fine velvets and broadcloth, in black, blue, brown, green, plum and garnet in beautiful shades. They are made up in all styles, including the refined full length embroidered coats. Also some exclusive mixtures. But the best of all perhaps are the velvet suits in black, blue, brown, green, plum and garnet in all styles from the eton to the full length coat suit.

Two Hundred Women's Raincoats Tomorrow—$25.00 Ones for $18.00.

A Raincoat is a twelve month garment and certainly there is nothing in the way of an outer garment which excels it for all-round usefulness.

Those that go on sale tomorrow at $18.00 each—full seven dollars under price—are made of fine worsteds in oxford grey, in tan, in olive. The materials were all thoroughly shrunken before making up and the coats are guaranteed to shed water and not to "draw" or shrink.

The styles are new, so new in fact that they are being duplicated by the manufacturers for next Spring.

If you are a believer in practical Christmas presents, here's a chance to indulge that belief and save considerable on the purchase price.

Lowered Prices That Take Effect Tomorrow on Silks.

Say you have in mind the presentation of a silk waist pattern to a number of your girl relatives, and say you have decided how much you are willing to expend. You can get a much finer quality of silk for the price in mind here tomorrow, or you can get the quality you had in view and save a certain margin of the price. Good selection in the assortment for fancy work purposes.

Thursday, November 30, 1905.

Minister Squiers has resigned his post at Havana. Though he declines to talk, it is understood his attitude on the Isle of Pines question made him obnoxious to the Cuban administration. The statement by Secretary Root so closely preceding the announcement of Mr. Squiers' withdrawal is significant. The administration continues to stand on the platform of a "square deal to every man," at home and abroad.

Former Senator Burton of Kansas was sentenced yesterday to imprisonment and payment of a fine on the charge of using his official influence at Washington in aid of a private enterprise. Burton's act was clearly in violation of the law. His penalty is light, compared with his offense. The mere fact of conviction, however, should have a good effect in restraint of public servants whose moral sense is unequal to keeping them in the path of rectitude.

Testimony in the court-martial at Annapolis evidences not only the long-standing feud between the midshipmen whose fistic encounter had a fatal termination, but that the bitter feeling responsible for the tragedy still lingers in the mind of the survivor. So far from feeling remorse over the death of his opponent, apparently, he tries to find justification for his action. Midshipman Meriwether's attitude on the witness stand is not likely to elicit the sympathy of the public.

A steady reduction in the number of illiterates in this country is shown by a census bureau bulletin. While 106 persons out of every 1,000 over 10 years of age are unable to write, in 1890 the number of illiterates per 1,000 was 133. Although the showing is cause for congratulation, national pride need not vaunt itself so long as Germany, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland and Denmark boast fewer illiterates, proportionally, than we do. But the "millennium of literacy" may be with us some day in the far future.

Conflicting reports continue to come from Sevastopol, the government expressing hope of suppressing the mutiny of soldiers and sailors within a short time, while almost the entire population has left the city in anticipation of bloody happenings. The government has been seriously hampered in forwarding troops to the storm center by the refusal of railway employes to transport soldiers. A strong show of force may overawe the mutineers, but a pitched battle seems more likely.

The Gazette's fund for the relief of the sufferers in Russia continues to receive substantial additions daily. There could be no more appropriate time than Thanksgiving day for contributing to this most deserving of causes. In proportion to the enjoyment derived from today's feast let checks be made out to provide food for the starving women and children in Russia. The Thanksgiving day spirit should incite this prosperous community to open its heart and pocketbook and give in accordance with its abundant means.

The decision of the London county council to take out of commission the line of passenger steamers which it placed in service last summer furnishes more food for thought in this country. The line has been losing $5,000 a week, owing to bad management. Accidents have been frequent, the boats have failed to run on regular schedule, and a trip on them has been popularly termed "bumping the bumps," because of the many collisions. From which it would appear that municipal ownership, even among our English cousins, does not always enjoy smooth sailing.

Every holder of an insurance policy should give heed to the advice of Senator Armstrong, chairman of New York's legislative investigating committee, issued yesterday: "Do not allow your policies to lapse on account of anything revealed by this investigation. Policy-holders are in a better position now than before the investigation began and their position ought steadily to improve as our inquiry proceeds." Legislation to safeguard the rights of policy-holders everywhere is to be recommended by the committee, and those who permit their policies to lapse at this time will not participate in the coming benefits.

The Nation Gives Thanks.

The dawn of another Thanksgiving day finds the national cup of blessings full and running over. Never was there more reason for the hearty celebration of the festal day by a grateful people. A general and enduring prosperity, founded upon the bed rock of industry and prudence, presents its evidences on every hand. Crops of unprecedented abundance have rewarded the toil of the farmer; profitable employment is within the reach of every wage-earner; the wheels of industry are humming merrily, making the music the nation loves to hear. But above all other blessings the country is enjoying that of peace. While grim war has stalked through other lands, leaving death and desolation in its wake, we have lived in gratifying amity with our neighbors and no rumors of wars have disturbed Uncle Sam's serenity.

Thanksgiving day is a peculiarly American institution, but even were its celebration extended to other nations, not one, this year, would have such incentives as we to observe it religiously and enthusiastically. In one land we find murderous mobs instituting an inferno of pillage and slaughter, while anarchy rules; in another, men, women and children are starving because heads of families seek bread-winning employment in vain; other nations, sword in hand, are anxiously watching each other for the first hostile movement; peoples that have long boasted of their mutually advantageous alliance are now ready to fly at one another's throats.

The calls to the people, by president and governor, to observe the day were made in accordance with an ancient and admirable custom, but they were not necessary. Each individual citizen of this republic can find some personal cause for thanksgiving, apart from the national causes universally apparent. This is the day when the admonition of the old doxology should be generally heeded, for the American people have increasing cause each year to "praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Basis of the Trouble.

A rather alarming demonstration was made by the London unemployed yesterday. Insult was offered a member of the royal family and there were suggestions to the crowd to take by force the means of subsistence. These things indicate a grave situation. The London poor comprise a vast army, composed of many races and creeds. Their condition has been steadily growing worse for five years or more, despite all efforts of the charitable to give relief, until now, men, women and children are on the verge of starvation.

Unrestricted immigration has done more than all else to create this desperate situation; it is from the alien element the suggestions of violence come. It is probable natives of Great Britain are the greater sufferers from the pinch of poverty, because their employment has been taken by the foreigners who have always been accustomed to a lower wage and meaner scale of living. Some of the trouble is rooted in the British economic system, but more in the open door that invites the oppressed populations of the continent. London will be fortunate, indeed, if the winter passes without turbulence and disorder.

There is a lesson in all this for the United States. Riding the crest of an extraordinary wave of prosperity there are few unemployed in our great cities; practically none outside of them. There is no stress though more than 1,000,000 aliens were admitted during the past fiscal year. With the pinch of hard times it will be different. The pinch will come, sometime. Not soon, we hope. It will be longer delayed and easier to bear, however, if prompt action be taken to check the flood of immigration. No time should be lost in closing the gates against the thousands who are fleeing from barely tolerable conditions at home on the solicitation of smooth tongued steamship agents, who picture this country as the land where hard times never come.

Not a city in this country but has more of the very poor than 10 years ago; not one that has not vastly increased the proportion of its population living today on the earnings of tomorrow. These are the people who cannot tide over a business depression. Immigration causes their ranks to grow. Thousands of immigrants would be better off where they came from than here and thousands here before would be better off if the others had not come. It is a duty to stop the movement.

Opposing Football Reform.

The cry of certain professional football coaches that the game cannot be reformed without eliminating those features which have not only made it popular and financially profitable, but which develop in the players the qualities of patience, courage and endurance, was to have been expected. The coaches make their living out of the game. If football is to be so modified as to become a mild and harmless pastime, attracting fewer paying spectators, then colleges cannot pay such large salaries to coaches. Actual reform includes abolishing professional coaching. The desire of the real friends of football is to render it less a business on the part of those who play it and more a pastime in which all can join, a healthful recreation rather than a spectacular show.

Is there good reason for believing if a few of the rougher and more dangerous features are eliminated from football, it will lose popularity? The game might be played so even non-expert spectators could follow the plays and enjoy them, as is not now possible. Observe the bewilderment of the man witnessing his first game of modern American football. Even if he has a perfect comprehension of the multiplicity of plays possible, gained from book study of the game, it will be a long time before he can train his eye and understanding to follow them intelligently. A running and kicking game, instead of "the physique," would add to the enjoyment of spectators. Many persons, now deterred from attending games by the fear of witnessing a fatality, would become devotees. The few present spectators who might be disgruntled by the softening of the game could find solace in attending prize fights.

It should not, however, be a question of attendance. The action of Columbia, the University of New York and the threat of Harvard show the trend of sentiment. It is not confined to colleges. The public is interested. If there is a demand anywhere for brutal and hazardous professional sport it will be catered to, but it has no business in college or school life.

Revenue Records Broken.

All records have been broken by state collections this year, the total reaching $24,250,000, fully three-fourths coming from the corporations. This is about $5,000,000 more than the receipts at the corresponding time last year and nearly $2,000,000 above the receipts of 1902, the highest previous record. The treasury has also broken all records in the payment of appropriations, nearly all of its obligations in that line having been met. Political agitation has affected the operations of the treasury very little.

There is decided pertinence in the comments and suggestions of Auditor General Snyder. The surplus is too large. A larger portion of the taxes should be returned to counties for the relief of local taxation. The existing surplus may wisely be reduced by providing a fine park setting for the new Capitol building, now almost completed and practically all paid for out of current revenues. Mr. Snyder suggests return to counties of all of the personal property tax and of the liquor license fees—very proper subjects for such treatment. He also favors continuance of liberal appropriations for good roads.

It will not be wise to reduce the rate of taxation on the subjects now taxed for state purposes. The exceptional revenues this year are the result of tremendous prosperity. There will be leaner years. It is not improbable that at some time new subjects of taxation may have to be found, or taxes now advised to be returned to counties may have to be retained again by the state. State taxation is not burdensome, being imposed only on those who can well afford to pay. The system, as it has been developed, is a good one. It is probably the best of any state in the union. It bears no direct relation to abuses that have, at times, appeared in treasury management. It is a product of wise statesmanship and a monument to Republican rule in Pennsylvania.

The gentlemen who are collecting opinions of experts as to whether or not football should be reformed should not neglect to interview the ex-players who are sojourning in the hospitals.

Another college student, this time in Indiana, has been tied to railway tracks by enthusiastic companions. After football is thoroughly reformed, somebody should tackle hazing.

"Judge" Hamilton, the insurance man's friend, has been located in Paris. He has been there some weeks, so there is little hope of recovering the money.

A prophet out in Utah says the world will wind up with the year and advises all to sell their goods and send him half. The latest prophet-sharing scheme.

The czar has accepted the resignation of the master of the imperial horse. Probably intends to be up to date and have an imperial chauffeur.

A Philadelphia millionaire has disappointed society by marrying a telephone girl and there are many sweet belles out of tune.

It's too late now, but it would have been a graceful act for both Russia and Japan to have sent a turkey to the White House.

The "Prodigal Son" company was burned out in New York yesterday, losing all its properties except the fatted calf.

It is too much to hope that the operation on Emperor William's ear will enable him to wear a smaller hat.

Here and there may be found a few persons who are not thankful, but they only help to prove the rule.

The rapid reduction in the number of illiterates should be cheering news to foot-weary book agents.

Constantinople celebrated the Bairam festival yesterday, but without football or other disturbances.

The Congressional Record resumes publication next week with several new space writers.

The consensus of popular opinion seems to be that football is tainted.

My Thanks.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—I am thankful for the altruism which has led The Pittburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph to open a relief fund for the sufferers in Russia.

I am thankful that an era of peace has succeeded the bloody strife of the far east.

I am thankful for the privilege of living in a land where the beautiful sun shines for all.

I am thankful for the spirit of charity, for free libraries and for the spirit of humanity which feels, sympathizes and helps those in need and distress.

I am thankful for the heavenly gifts of love and music, uplifting our hearts, exalting our ideals and ennobling our feelings to greater tenderness and sympathy; without them, life would indeed be sad, lonely and bleak.

I am thankful for the freedom of press and speech—the buckler between savagery and civilization.

I am thankful for the spirit which animated our forefathers to fight courageously for the liberty we enjoy in this free republic.

Speed the day when there will be no necessity for relief funds of any kind; when superstition, fanaticism and race prejudice cease to exist in the hearts and minds of men; when the condition of the poor becomes better and the spirit of brotherly love shall animate every human breast.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

You Can Get What You Need by Asking It Aright.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"Since what we choose is what we are,
And what we love we yet shall be,
The goal may ever shine afar;
The will to win it makes us free."

Stop your yammering and grumbling and devote your energies to effectually asking for what you need, and you will get it sure.

You will note, however, that there is a great difference between what you really need and what you merely want.

You may think you need many of the things you want, but should you get them you would soon discover that you didn't need them at all.

That is how parlors, sitting-rooms, bachelor-girl quarters and old bach dens become clogged with trumpery that isn't hardly fit for an auction room, or junk shop.

Instead of getting what they need people get a lot of stuff that they think they want. Dealers in this sort of rubbish know how to display it in their stores so as to catch the eye of the impressionable, impractical man or woman. It catches the eye, as intended, and the possessor of the eye wants it, and buys it. But when it is installed, after making room for it by crowding other stuff or sending it to the attic or cellar, it doesn't look nearly as well as it did in the store.

If it cost a whole lot, or came from a fashionable dealer, it holds first place until something else strikes the wandering eye, and then it is crowded into an obscure corner or placed on a high shelf.

* * *

And so it is that some minds become literary, or gossipy, junk shops.

No doubt you have heard of persons, or have known them, perhaps, who were great readers—read everything, anything they get their hands on.

But what do these know when it comes to things worth while? In what have they been improved by their much reading?

These read what they want to read, and not what they need. They munch great quantities of stuff and digest but little, if any. They ruminate but do not chew the cuds. Were ruminating animals to do this they would become poor, scrawny, and never fit for practical use.

"Beware of the man of one book" is a very old saying, and one that will live until the end of the book age, if ever such an age shall come. Those who read to learn concerning the things they need to know, will surely become wise concerning these things, which is better than a lot of undigested, impracticable knowledge.

* * *

And if young people know what sort of persons they needed for mates they would find no trouble in getting them.

As it is a girl wants to marry, but she doesn't know what need she has for a husband, nor does she know what accomplishment she needs in order to fit her to become a practical, useful wife.

Nor does the average young man know the sort of woman he needs as a wife, nor does he know what he needs to be in order to become a practical, successful husband.

Th man or woman who knows the sort of partner they need are not very liable to make mistakes in their selections.

And this carries us back to home and school training, the places where success or failure in life begin.

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—Would that the present generation of fathers and mothers could be persuaded of the great responsibility devolving upon them, and that the formation of character begins at least with the infant in the cradle.

Let us look for a moment at the florist who is interested and devoted to his work. How carefully he watches over and guards his flowers and plants from the very earliest stages of development, and tenderly cares for them as leaf by leaf, or petal by petal they unfold until they have burst into full and perfect beauty.

Does a plant or flower that should be tall and stately show a tendency to incline too much this way or that, he immediately straightens it up and applies some support to prevent its being warped and its beauty spoiled.

Now let us compare child-life to a flower. How few parents give any thought—outside its bodily comfort—to the beautiful flower of childhood, day by day unfolding its petals by their side, noting the little faults constantly gaining a foothold in the very heart of this beautiful flower, and which will warp the character and spoil the beauty of the budding flower of childhood.

To carefully watch and nourish this little life entrusted to their care requires earnest and thoughtful attention and study.

Parents must pause in their strenuous life, in their striving after the material things of the world—in order to surround their children with all the comforts of life—and study their own natures and that of the lives entrusted to them, working in loving unison—if they would lay aright the corner stone, and rear the structure of a noble and beautiful character to its highest development.

They must tenderly uproot cruelty, deceit, disobedience and like faults as they try to gain a foothold in the heart of the child, and firmly root in their stead the attributes, qualities, love, truth, kindness, nobility and everything as quickly recognize and accept the path of honor, and both will take up their life work nobly fitted to battle with the world, and in their turn will wisely guide and direct others in the years to come.

A CHILD LOVER.

Thanksgiving Here and in Europe.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir—I thought that the good custom of thanking God for the prosperity we enjoy and accompanying it with the eating of a turkey is our national monopoly (for we are experts in trust business), but as soon as I read in the daily newspapers that the allied European fleet departed from the Athenian port for the Turkish waters to roast Turkey, I changed my mind radically.

But still there is a striking difference between our way of eating turkey and theirs; we may get turkey from last year preserved with some poisonous chemical preserves, while Europe gets a living Turkey; we may sometimes get a chicken, a goose, or a duck instead of a turkey. Europe gets the real Turkey; while we may eat our turkey with sauerkraut relish, Europe can not have it, for Germany, the real sauerkraut producer, refused to join the Turkey feast with the rest of Europe. Still we are better off than Europe after all, for we can eat our turkey either warm or cold while Europe must eat it hot-roasted and is liable to get her fingers burned and run away with the skin of her teeth from the Turkey.

THANKSGIVING WILL BE QUIET IN NEW YORK

No Large Attractions Arranged for the Day and the Public Will Simply Eat.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—It's not going to be a very exciting Thanksgiving in New York tomorrow. Not that the people are growing to love the day less, but their comfort more. There was a time, not many years back, when the city had to rush fieldward and, at the risk of limb and digestion, take in a big football game.

Those were the days of flaunting black and yellow and the defiant blue. They're gone, probably never to return again. It was felt that somehow or other that mad search for pleasure wasn't the best way to keep the day. The public gradually woke to the fact that a less strenuous observance was more in accord with the constitution and by-laws of their personal government. It just eats and sits around now. That's a sort of thing that grows on one.

Nothing elaborate in the way of programs of entertainment has been prepared. A few schools play football, a few golfers play golf, a few clubs have dinners, a few railroads offer special inducements to the city to go out into the wilds and rusticate. That's about all. On the whole, though it's a mighty comfortable thing to contemplate. Arrange a bang-up affair of any kind and the average New Yorker feels himself in duty bound to go to it if he possibly can, no matter how much he may long for an experiment in the simple life—which usually consists in having everybody else do something for you. But actually to have one day in the year, and that a holiday, on which you are permitted to plan and do for yourself as you please, is a rare privilege. Let us give thanks.

Not Enough Turkey to Go Round.

For those who put off the purchase of a turkey until today there was bad news. Most of the finest, dry-picked, fresh stock had been spoiled by the weather and wholesale prices were boosted. A remarkable feature of the market is that while first quality turkeys are retailing at 25 cents a pound, the wholesale stock has been sold out, and there is a great demand for more. The beef trust, which controls the turkey market, shipped what was considered an ample supply of the birds to meet local demand, but the demand proved greater than was anticipated. Many retailers had practically disposed of their stocks last night and could get no more today.

Will Be Seasonable Thanksgiving.

The first genuine cold wave of the season is rushing toward New York with the speed of a limited express train. Tomorrow will dawn bright and cold, and the thermometer will drop 30 degrees from today's figure by tomorrow evening, if the weather bureau's predictions come true. It will be a clear, seasonable Thanksgiving day, with sunshine to make men glad they are alive and a wholesome vigor in the atmosphere. New York will not be alone in enjoying the cold wave that ushers in winter. The whole eastern part of the country will share it. Even the South Atlantic and gulf states will feel the nip of a hard frost.

Took Shot at All Candidates.

In the canvass of the void ballots of the Fifteenth election district of the Thirty-first assembly district today Justice Giegerich had to throw out one much-marked ballot. In the space over the Republican column the voter had written "Chauvanist, grafter, hypocrite." Across McClellan's name he wrote "gentleman." In the space above the Socialist party column was writted "labor fakirs," while he put his cross in the circle under the emblem of the Social Labor party. Across the emblem of the Municipal Ownership League "humbug" was written, while "hot air" was in the Jerome nominators' column.

Mrs. Schell Plays Carrie Nation.

While under the impression that she was Mrs. Carrie Nation, Mrs. Mary Schell nearly wrecked the saloon at 1712 Second avenue last night. She appeared at the saloon late in the evening, asking for her husband, George, who is a frequenter of the place. Her husband was not there, but she remained and imbibed. Adopting the favorite methods of Mrs. Nation, she began to bombard her fellow patrons of the bar with beer glasses. By the time Captain Farrel of the East Eighty-eighth street police station arrived with a patrol wagon Mrs. Schell had broken 20 beer glasses and smashed all the mirrors behind the bar. Today Magistrate Crane send her to the island to take the rest cure for three months.

Mr. Collier Says Some Things.

P. F. Collier, the publisher, talked of politics, life insurance and blackmail in an interview, just before his departure on the White Star Line steamship Oceanic for Ireland, where he will spend some time shooting in the county Meath. "The recent political overturning is serious," said Mr. Collier. "It shows that the workingmen are thinking. This has been brought to a focus by the insurance revelations."

One of "The Finest" Is Cheap.

George J. Wolf, a pulmber of 754 East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street was a prisoner in the Morrisiana court today charged by Patrolman Anthony McKernan of the Alexander avenue station with disorderly conduct in calling the latter a "cheap grafter." Wolf said that his partner promised McKernan a new $2 hat, and since then, he alleged McKernan had been at them every day or two for the hat. Finally on Saturday McKernan came to his shop and demanded the hat. Wolf lost his temper and told McKernan he was a "cheap grafter who would sell himself for $2." Magistrate Breen said to McKernan: "the evidence is all against you in this case."

Must Go "Higher Up."

As in other places, the investigation of the "system" at Annapolis needs to go "higher up." If it has been tacitly, if not directly encouraged by governing powers of the college, the cadets are not wholly to blame for the brutality and fatal results it has developed.—Baltimore American.

VARIED SYMPOSIUM ON THANKSGIVING

Some Original and Contributed Thoughts on the Spirit and Meaning of Occasion.

According to the proclamation of the President and custom, this is the day on which thanks are offered up for the blessings, material and otherwise, that have been showered upon us during the past year, the joyful months of spring, the happy summertime and the fruitful harvest. The unctious prayers that ascend to the Giver of all Good on this occasion might well be tempered with thanks for the ills we have escaped. The negative blessings are sometimes the best. In the family we have escaped sickness and the solemnity of Death. In the nation we are, as one of the Presidents declared, "at peace with the world and the rest of mankind." So while we feast over the turkey today, thankful enough to have it, it would be well to dwell on the afflictions that have not overtaken us and give thanks to Him who has averted them. These thoughts are suggested by the following quotation from Puck:

Now, on this day of gratitude
And thanks expressed, let's surely not
Forget, with others, to include
Some thanks for things we haven't got.

The Beggar's Hymn.

The Atlanta Constitution poet sings another song that is not altogether out of tune:

I ain't a-singin' no song o' Thanksgivin'—
Not enough bread for to keep me a-livin'!
Way-worn an' old—
The wife's thimble can hold
All that I get o' the glitter o' gold!

I ain't a-singin' no song o' Thanksgivin'—
This is the work that has grudged me a livin';
Houseless my head—
Table barren o' bread,
Small space for me livin'—small space for me dead!

Ain't got the heart for a song o' Thanksgivin';
But judge you my cause, Lord of light an' the Heiv'n!
An' when Life's story's told,
An' the heavens unfolied,
Place me there, where the sheep are, an' give me God's gold!

Comes from the Heart.

There are other poems, the thankfulness and humility that come from the heart, and this is one of them:

For the year of past and plenty,
And his blessings rich and free;
Let our voices blend in praising
Him, who blesses you and me.

Let us thank Him for the harvest,
And the garners filled with grain;
For the work that is so plenty,
And the steps we have attained.

Let us thank him for our sorrows,
And the heartaches, and the trials
That have driven us closer to Him
When the tears bedimmed our eyes.

Let us thank Him for the lessons,
Though they come to us through tears,
That we all may be more grateful
In the future, coming years.

Let us thank Him for the table
Which is with His bounties spread,
That we are among the living,
And not sleeping with the dead.

So when in our homes we're gathered,
Mother, father, children dear,
Let us look to God, for His blessing
And His holy name revere.

The Country's Blessings.

Here are other thoughts pertaining more to the nation and its all-enveloping blessings:

The circling year brings round once more
The stated day of prayer and praise.
And at the bidding of our Chief
In thanks to God our hearts we raise.
Beneath their load our orchards bend,
Our bursting garners feed the earth;
Boundless the riches of our mines,
High hope sits down on every hearth.

As all beside with drought was parched,
But dew on Gideon's fleece was found,
So peace on us does dove-like brood,
While elsewhere war's fierce cries resound.
For all these blessings of the year
This nation offers up to Thee,
Thou bounteous giver of all good,
The grateful homage of the free.

God of the Pilgrim Fathers be
The God of their succeeding race,
Shower blessings on this favored land
From out Thy boundless stores of grace
Let gratitude swell every breast
And rise like incense sweet to Heaven,
To Him that guides our nation's course
Be blessing, honor, glory given.

A Thanksgiving Prayer.

Lord, God, I turn on this Thanksgiving day
To view the path o'er which I made my way.
Although a path of thorns my eyes may greet;
Although I feel the sting still in my feet;
Although the harvest failed my barn to fill,
With grateful heart I bow and thank Thee still.

For I am sure what e'er may be my lot,
How meek, how poor, is more than I deserve;
Unto Thy will I'll bow and murmur not;
I'll not condemn His justice Whom I serve.

I'll not complain and call Thee, Father, stern
Because Thy sacred plans I failed to learn.
The cause of all this pain I cannot tell,
And, yet, like Job of old, I'll not rebel.

Lord, God, I turn on this Thanksgiving day
To view the path o'er which I made my way.
Although a path of thorns my eyes may greet;
Although I feel the sting still in my feet;
Although the harvest failed my barn to fill
With grateful heart I bow and thank Thee still.

The Vanity of Life.

The strutting gobbler never thinks of the morrow, like some people in life. The gobbler has had his day, his strutting, his preening of his feathers, but he finally gets the ax. This rhyme will tell the tale better:

The turkey gobbler strutted about,
And spread out his tail like a fan;
He plumed himself and gobbled and said
I am lord of the barnyard clan.
He screamed at the dog and chased the cat,
And flew at the cows in the lane,
He fought with the rooster, and pecked at the hens,
Then plumed himself again.

The rooster, he called to the hens to come near.
He looked at the turk with disdain,
And lifting his head, he gaudily said,
"That bird's altogether too vain.
But listen to me, while a story I tell,
Tomorrow is Thanksgiving day,
And that red-headed gobbler by early dawn
"Well, he won't have a word to say."

The cat and the dog sat down on a log,
And the cat grinned from ear to ear.
The dog wagged his tail and winked his brown eyes
And whispered, "I very much fear
That tomorrow is really Thanksgiving day."
And the cat laughed in sardonic glee
And shouted, "You know," while the dog said bow-wow!
"There'll be pickings for you and for me."

And lo! in the morning no turkey was seen,
And never a sound from him heard;
The hens and the rooster went strutting about,
While the cat licked her red lips and purred,
At noon from the kitchen, delicious and fine
Came the odor of something so good.
The rooster he crowed, the dog said bow-wow,
For somehow they all understood.

The Thanksgiving Dinner.

The poetical and the ethereal elements of Thanksgiving have been ministered to, and it may not be too late to suggest something for the dinner table today, something that may excite the appetite, and for this purpose these points are taken from The Pilgrim: "The centerpiece for the Thanksgiving table should symbolize the fruitfulness of the year, that, properly, for which thanks are given. The basket may be simple or elaborate as the taste inclines, but the simpler it is, the more in keeping with the spirit of the season. Nuts may be used for filling the basket. Let the assortment include hickory nuts, butternuts, black walnuts and chestnuts. For the distinct purpose of decoration, quinces may be employed, and these, together with winter pears and apples, should be burnished highly. Finish the front centerpiece with bunches of purple grapes, velvety in their bloom. At the base of the basket may be arranged a bank of green grapes or, preferably, dried grains.

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

The supreme circle of the Homeless 20 was well represented at the first annual convention of the organization at the house of subordinate circle No. 1 in Penn avenue yesterday. The convention was in session from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 8 o'clock last evening. An honor was conferred on the founder, John J. Davis of Indianapolis, by electing him president of the supreme circle, which now has a membership of almost 20,000 traveling men of the country. The annual banquet will be held in the handsome new banquet hall of the Hotel Colonial annex this evening. This will be the formal opening of the big banquet hall of the new Colonial, and will be a kind of dedicatory occasion. The hall is designed to hold 300 persons at the tables, and fully half this number is expected to be present at the banquet tonight. John O'Keefe, retiring supreme president, will be master of ceremonies at the banquet.

Aside from the election of officers the by-laws and constitution were amended, and considerable routine business was transacted. The officers, in addition to Mr. Davis, were chosen as follows: First vice president, R. E. Harrison of Atlanta, Ga., who was a director; second vice president, Gilbert Daniel of Baltimore; directors, W. A. Griffith, H. H. Farrell, E. W. Edgerton and George W. Miller of Pittsburgh; T. D. Cavin of Irwin, Pa., T. F. Thoner of Wheeling, W. Va., and H. W. Ewing of Cleveland.

New Yorkers With Hearst.

"Sifted down to cold facts, the political situation in New York at present is against Bosses Odell and Murphy and the majority of the best people are with Hearst in his fight for the mayoralty," said the Rev. He was on his way to his former home at Canonsburg to spend Thanksgiving with his mother.

Favors Postoffice Bill.

The Hon. Champ Clark, Democratic congressman from Missouri, stopped off in Pittsburg for a few hours yesterday while on his way to Washington. Congressman Clark expressed himself as in favor of the bill which Congressman J. Francis Burke will introduce for a new postoffice in Pittsburgh. He also said he would like to see a Greater Pittsburgh.

Signs Direct to Information Bureau.

The Pennsylvania officers are endeavoring to make the most of the Union station until it can be enlarged, which will have to be done within the next year or two. The information bureau recently established has been one of the busiest places and shows the need for this improvement itself. Owing to the booth for this bureau having to be placed in the east vestibule of the waiting room, it is not visible from the waiting room. To aid in directing patrons to the bureau and also to direct them to the parcel room if they desire to check luggage or parcels for a few hours, the officers yesterday placed a number of signs on the pillasters in the waiting room, on which directions are given to the bureau and parcel room.

About 50 of the oldest railroad conductors of this district left in two special Pullman cars last night on Panhandle train No. 28 for St. Louis, where they will join several hundred other conductors from all over the country to proceed south over the Iron Mountain route to the City of Mexico. There they will attend the annual convention of the Old Reliable Conductors' Insurance association, which opens December 7. Capt. W. B. Chelett of the Pennsylvania railroad, who is first vice president of the association, was in charge of the party.

Thanksgiving Travel Is Heavy.

Pittsburgh stations presented a holiday appearance in the matter of local and long-distance travel yesterday. This was particularly noticeable for the trains going west, owing to special rates being allowed for points within 150 miles. A large number of Pittsburghers went on the trains to spend Thanksgiving at their childhood homes with the old folks.

The hotel registers showed fewer names than usual for the past couple of months, although the hotel men said that the registry was larger than was expected. All of the hotels will serve special Thanksgiving dinners.

Change of Time for Wheeling Train.

Incidental to the recent change of time on the Pennsylvania lines west, another minor change is announced which will concern the many Pittsburghers who avail themselves of the popular $1 50 Sunday excursions to Wheeling. The Sunday morning train from Pittsburgh will leave the Union station at 6:30 o'clock, 10 minutes earlier than heretofore, and will reach Wheeling at 8:40 o'clock, beginning with next Sunday. The other Sunday morning train, with parlor car attached, which is another favorite train for excursionists to Wheeling, will continue to leave the Union station at 8:20 o'clock Sunday mornings.

CITY EMPLOYES TO BE REMOVED

Many in Bigelow's Department Will Have Little Cause for Thanksgiving.

DISMISSED FOR TWO MONTHS

A large number of city employes will have little reason to give thanks today. Today and tomorrow many employes in the department of public works will receive notice that their services are not required, at least for the present. The fact that the appropriations for the current year are running short is one reason for the reduction of the payroll, and another motive is to create a large number of vacancies to fill in February to procure votes and influence for the administration.

Director Bigelow is engaged with his superintendents in going over the payrolls of the bureaus to pick out the men who can be released to the most advantage. The largest number of removals will be, it is said, in the bureau of highways and sewers, where about 600 men are employed, when the Bureau has its full quota. The removals, however, will not be confined to any one bureau, but will be distributed throughout the city hall and, to some extent, in the safety building.

The police and fire bureaus, it is stated, are not to be cut as much as Director Bigelows department, where the heavy shortage in the appropriations is reported to be. For two months the payroll will be kept down to the minimum for the purposes of economy and to create vacant positions that can be offered in February to get votes in the municipal election.

It will be also the means of bringing into the councilmen who are weakening in their support of the administration. Every man on the payroll must have some person of influence, be he councilman or ward leader, as his political surety and the administration has found the quickest way to reach a councilman who has jumped the traces is to discharge men whom he has placed on the payroll.

John Doran, superintendent of the public safety building, was removed yesterday by Director Moore for alleged disobedience of orders. Doran has been in charge of the building for three years. Daniel Coughlan of the Second ward, has been appointed to succeed Doran.

The clerks employed at City hall were permitted to draw their November salaries yesterday, in advance of the usual time, by an arrangement with the controller's and mayor's offices. They were able to get their money to spend on Thanksgiving, but no other city employes were so favored.

LOCAL CITY EMPLOYES' TRIP WITHOUT RESULT

Governor Pennypacker Will Not Amend His Call, but He Favors Civil Service Regulations.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—A committee of employes of the Pittsburgh public safety department called upon Gov. Pennypacker this morning and urged him to modify his call for the extra session so as to open the way for the passage of a civil service law for the government of municipal employes in that city and of Pennsylvania.

The governor told the committee that he favored civil service regulations, but that if he were to amend his call for the extra session to include this and the other subjects which have been mentioned it might prolong the session. He promised, however, to give their request careful consideration.

The governor declined to make any comment when asked if he would modify his proclamation for the coming extra session of the legislature so as to include a general election law and other reforms which have been suggested. He left at noon for Schwenecksville to spend Thanksgiving day and will not return to Harrisburg until after his visit south to attend the dedication of the Pennsylvania soldiers' monuments at Andersonville and Chattanooga, December 7 to 9.

AGAINST "BOSSISM."

President Declares Emphatically Against Anything Savoring of Dictation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—President Roosevelt has declared himself against "bossism" in New York city politics. He has made this emphatic in letters to friends regarding the selection of a president of the Republican committee of New York county. He deprecates the interference of outsiders in the politics of the county and has indicated his view that nothing ought to be done by such outsiders that might be confounded with dictation.

President Roosevelt has not declared himself in favor of the selection of Representative Herbert Parsons or Representative J. Van V. Olcott or anybody else as the president of the New York county committee, although both Mr. Parsons and Mr. Olcott were included in the list of men, any one of whom the President believes would make an acceptable head of the committee.

For the purpose of delivering a series of lectures in the public schools of Pittsburgh and vicinity, with the object of organizing the older pupils into a junior civic society for the beautifying of the city, E. CLAIM OF $11,660 FILED AGAINST FLEMING ESTATE

Duquesne Sub-District School Board Makes Charge That Late Treasurer Was Short That Amount in His Accounts.

A claim of $11,660 has been filed by the Duquesne sub-district school board against the estate of the late George S. Fleming. Prior to his death Fleming was treasurer of the board, and the allegation has been made by other members that the money was misappropriated. Fleming kept his school funds with the Lincoln National bank, and it is said that after his death an examination proved that this account had been overdrawn. The claim was filed by Attorney McKenna for the board, in orphans court yesterday. Judge Miller heard the audit on the first and partial account of Fleming's estate. Claims aggregating $30,000, including that of the school board, have been made against it.

The discovery of Fleming's alleged shortage was made soon after his death. Other members of the board called at the bank where it was known the school funds had been kept. They were surprised, they say, to learn that there was no money there to the board's credit. There were no specific accounts showing for what the money had been expended.

The Mercantile Trust Company was on Fleming's bond for the school funds, and an argument has arisen as to whether or not the school board is a preferred creditor. Attorney W. J. Brennen, who represents Fleming's estate, insists that it is not, while Attorney McKenna and those representing the trust company are equally positive that it is. This point will be argued at a hearing next Wednesday.

The Lincoln National bank is said to hold notes against the estate aggregating $17,000, and with this additional claim made by the school board it is believed the estate is insolvent. The claim that Fleming appropriated the school funds to his own use is made by H. M. Bolger, the present treasurer of the board, and Alderman S. J. Toole and members of the board claim to be in possession of facts confirming Bolger's statement. The claim made by the board created considerable surprise in court yesterday. The members of the board are Henry Schuette, Robert Foley, H. M. Bolger, P. J. Dugan, William Conley, James J. Fallon and William J. Synder.

MISS SCHENLEY HAS STRENUOUS LIFE

Promises to Attend Reception in Her Honor to Be Given by the D. A. R.

TALKS ON UNIVERSITY SITE

Miss Hermione Schenley has accepted the invitation of the board of management of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to attend the chapter meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Twentieth Century club. An interesting entertainment has been prepared for the second half of the meeting, to be followed by a tea and reception in Miss Schenley's honor. Miss Schenley's mother, Mrs. Mary E. Schenley, was an honorary life member of the chapter, having been elected during the second year of the chapter's existence, and it was she who presented the block house to the Pittsburgh Daughters.

Someone has said that Miss Schenley is too democratic to be an English woman and that, perforce, she must be an American, and it has also been noted that on all occasions she wears a little pin, which is an American flag embedded in a crystal.

Miss Schenley continues her exemplification of the strenuous life, and although yesterday was not quite such a full day as its predecessor, Miss Schenley found very few minutes unoccupied. A call from Chancellor Samuel B. McCormick of the Western university opened the day. Dr. McCormick explained to Miss Schenley his ideas and hopes for the enlargement of the university, and also mentioned the wish of the trustees to secure a site in Pittsburgh for the institution.

Rain Spoils Plans.

Rain again interfered with Miss Schenley's plans yesterday, keeping her in her apartments for the greater part of the day. Mrs. George W. Guthrie's luncheon at her home in Woodland road, was in Miss Schenley's honor. It was carried out with Thanksgiving appointments. Instead of the usual floral centerpiece, a mound of autumn fruits occupied the center of the luncheon table around which sat 12 guests, among whom were Miss Schenley, Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, Miss Kate C. MacKnight and Mrs. John W. Herron. At the close of the luncheon Miss Schenley visited with Mrs. Herron for a short time and made fast friends of Mrs. Herron's children. Later the two women drove about the city, Miss Schenley returning to the hotel in time for dinner and a quiet evening in her apartments.

Her plans for Sunday represent an interesting program. She expects to attend service in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension with Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon and at the close of the service will entertain Mrs. Ammon at lunch at the Schenley hotel. The afternoon will be taken up with a drive through Highland park and across the Allegheny river to Guyasuta to see Mrs. Darlington, Mrs. Ammon's mother who is also a relative of Miss Schenley. Capt. Harboard will accompany Miss Schenley on this occasion, which in case of rain will be postponed until Monday morning. Several friends will take dinner with Miss Schenley on Sunday evening and later will attend the concert to be given by the Mendelssohn trio in the grill room of the Schenley. Mrs. William Thaw's luncheon, a drive through the parks with Edward M. Bigelow, Mrs. George Lauder's dinner and the orchestra concert in the evening, are scheduled for Friday. Miss Denny's luncheon is the only event on today's calendar.

Preparing for Miss Schenley's Reception.

Preliminary steps were taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the reception committee of the chamber of commerce, for the reception which that body will tender Miss Schenley next Wednesday evening, at the Hotel Schenley. It will be distinctly a chamber of commerce affair and will be one of the most brilliant of the season. Members of the chamber of commerce and their wives, together with a few special guests, will participate.

So many details are to be looked after in arranging for the event that Chairman William L. Jones of the general committee of 22 decided to divide the work among sub-committees, and at the meeting yesterday afternoon announced the following appointments:

Finance—A. P. Burchfield, H. K. Porter, E. B. Taylor, John B. Jackson, James H. Willock, Col. A. J. Logan.

Hotel Arrangements—W. H. Keech, John B. Barbour, Jr., D. L. Gillespie, W. M. Kennedy, F. F. Nicola, H. D. W. English.

Reception—William L. Jones, Robert Pitcairn, R. B. Mellon, Benjamin Thaw, A. M. Hamauer, George H. Anderson, Henry Buhl, Harmar D. Denny, Wilson A. Shaw, J. W. Kinnear.

Invitations—John B. Jackson, H. D. W. English, James H. Willock, William H. Stevenson.

The committee on introductions will be named later.

ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS ARE ENJOYING GREAT GROWTH

Annual Reports Show Steady Advances in Educational Affairs on the Northside.

The fifty-first annual report of the board of school controllers and the thirty-second annual report of the superintendent of the Allegheny schools was issued yesterday. The report of Principal D. B. Oliver states that the work in the schools has been in the main satisfactory. An increase in attendance has resulted in an increase in the number of teachers. The manual training, domestic science and kindergarten departments are growing. At present there are 20 kindergartens in the city and 12 of the 15 wards have some form of industrial work. Principal Oliver calls attention to the necessity of exercising great care in the selection of teachers for the industrial schools. A great deal of money has been expended on them and their success depends on the qualifications of the teachers.

Secretary George W. Gerwig in his report shows the total receipts to be $599,616 17, with a deficit on June 1 last of $47,598 98. Fines for drunkenness produced $659 25; fines for disorder, $16; tuition of non-resident high school pupils, $1,425, and interest, $3,598 81. The state appropriation was $99,409 77 and the rest came from taxes. Among the latter was one item of delinquent tax for 1893, 12 years ago. The expenditures were $427,215 76, this including a deficit of $36,340 35 from June 1, 1904. Salaries of teachers took most of the money. Text books cost $10,437 52; supplies, $12,699 98; compulsory education, $4,666 19; kindergartens, $15,921, and the public library, $4,130 16.

Superintendent John Morrow in his report includes reports sent to him by the heads of the several departments of the schools. Professor Morrow says the schools enjoyed a year of uninterrupted prosperity. The total enrollment was 19,788; the average monthly enrollment 15,664; and the average daily enrollment, 14,052. The teachers, including all departments, numbered 446.

A comparitive table showing the statistics of the school since the board of school controllers was organized in 1854 to date shows the growth of the schools. In 1854, at the close of the first year, the city had six male and 57 female teachers; in 1904 it had 48 male and 389 female teachers. The average salary of the male teachers was $802, and of the female teacher $257 in 1856; in 1905 the averages were $1,517 70 and $651 50. In 1855 there was an average daily attendance of pupils of 3,027, and the costs of tuition a pupil was 35 cents a month. In 1905 the average attendance was 14,019 and the cost $1 90 a month.

The report indicates that the industrial training department had the greatest growth last year. Industrial schools were added in the Tenth, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards, and in the High school. The Tenth, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards are preparing to add new courses and the Seventh and Eighth wards, which have no manual training departments, have expressed a willingness to take up the work. Superintendent Morrow has reprinted, as a part of his report, the first report ever published by the board of controllers. It was printed in 1855 and from that year until 1869 no printed reports can be found. There were but four wards in the city in 1855. Among the rules of that date is one directing parents to see that the children start to school at the stated hours "with clean hands and faces and combed hair, and in as decent apparel as their circumstances will permit." That school boys always were school boys is indicated by another rule stating that scholars "will not be permitted to throw stones, climb out or chalk fences by the way, or make any noise that might offend persons in their vicinity."

MANY BOATS TO GO OUT ON RISE

Millions of Bushels of Black Diamonds Will Start for the South Today.

BUSY SCENES ALONG WHARF

Today will witness an exodus of coal boats from the local harbor. The heavy rains of the last two days are expected to bring the water up to such a point that it will be perfectly safe to start the fleet today.

Yesterday all of the tow boats were brought into the wharves where they were loaded with supplies for the trip. A scene of activity reigned along Water street, and agents for the coal companies were busy hunting men to take the boats out. It came hard to a number of them to have to leave last evening, as they expected to eat Thanksgiving dinner at home. Now they will have to take what the boat cook prepares for their holiday meal.

Coal company officials and rivermen expect a stage of at least 12 or 14 feet at the Davis island dam. From the list of boats prepared by the coal companies yesterday, which will start south early today, it is believed that over 8,000,000 bushels will be sent south. Several of the boats which went out on the rise have not yet returned, as some went as far south as New Orleans. They are not expected back until spring. It is not known whether any of the boats leaving today will go to the southern city or not.

The boats which will be sent out by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company are: Ed Roberts, 17 boats and three barges; Josh Cook, seven boats and 10 barges; Charlie Brown, seven boats and 10 barges; Raymond Horner, 17 boats and three barges; Boaz, 17 boats and three barges; Exporter, 17 boats and three barges; James Moren, 17 boats and three barges; Iron Age, 17 boats and three barges; Coal City, 17 boats and three barges; Tom Dodsworth, 17 boats and three barges; Harry Brown, 17 boats and three barges; Alice Brown, 17 boats and three barges; Sam Brown, 22 barges; Valiant, 22 barges; Ironsides, and Joe Walton, 22 barges.

The United Coal Company will send out the W. H. Flint and Helen White with a total tow of 900,000 bushels. C. Jutte & Co. will send out the Gleaner with 12 boats and four barges, and the G. W. Thomas with eight boats. Col. T. C. Poe of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet line, predicted this rise in this paper several days ago, and yesterday he was receiving congratulations from all along the river. It is said to be seldom the colonel misses a prediction on the water mark, and at times he even "scoops" the weather bureau in forecasting the weather.

JUMP IN DEATH RATE.

During the Last Week 154 Persons Died in Pittsburgh.

There were 154 deaths in the city last week, as against 117 in the same week last year. The principal causes were: Pneumonia, 28; typhoid fever, 14, and consumption, 12.

During the week 57 cases of typhoid fever, 9 of scarlet fever and 22 of diphtheria were reported, and yesterday 28 of typhoid fever, 4 of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria.

RECEIVER RINAKER VISITS ENTERPRISE

Illinois Man Has Long Conference With John B. Cunningham and Commences Work.

Attorney Thomas Rinaker, of Carlinville, Ill., who was appointed permanent receiver for the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, arrived in this city yesterday morning and went at once to the bank in lower Allegheny. He and Receiver John Cunningham had a conference at the bank and then went to the federal building. Mr. Rinaker said he was yet almost entirely ignorant of the state of affairs at the bank, but had learned from Mr. Cunningham that the collapse of the institution was worse than in most instances where financial institutions are wrecked. He will be guided for some time yet by Mr. Cunningham, who has had charge of the bank since it closed.

Special Examiner Moxey is in Chicago making an examination of a trust company recently organized. He is expected back here next week. Next week the distribution of the estate of the late Sarah S. Huddleston will be taken up in orphans court. Cashier T. Lee Clark had extensive business dealings with Mrs. Huddleston and it is expected some light will be thrown on Clark's affairs through the settlement of the Huddleston estate.

George R. Bothwell, treasurer of the organization of Enterprise bank depositors, is of the opinion that the depositors as a body will never engage attorneys to make a supplementary examination because of the reluctance of most of them to contribute to the fund to retain Attorneys Marron and Mehard. Mr. Bothwell says unless something more is done promptly, he will be obliged to return the subscriptions already sent to him.

In an affidavit of defense to the suit of the Enterprise bank against him, John F. Klein yesterday denied the liability charged to him. The note sued on, he says, was given to T. J. Garlick, on a loan made by Klein to Garlick, who has since died. The bank, Klein says, had due knowledge of this before the delivery of the note to the bank. Albert Haight was appointed administrator of the estate, which at the time of Garlick's death, was indebted to Klein in the amount of $6,000, which included the note sued on. On September 25, 1905, Haight, as administrator, paid to T. Lee Clark, cashier of the Enterprise bank, $6,000 on the agreement made between Haight and Clark that the sum should be appropriated to the payment of all indebtedness of Garlick. Klein says the amount of the note sued on was, in fact, paid to the bank on September 25, and for this reason he denies the debt.

In the suit of Receiver John B. Cunningham against William H. Andrews the defendant has filed his plea, pleading non-indebtedness, payment and set-off.

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR FALL INSTITUTE

The fall meeting of the Pittsburgh Teachers' institute will begin tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, at Syria temple, Webster avenue, and Washington street, and will continue until Saturday at noon. Dr. C. B. Gilbert and Miss Ada Van Stone Harris will address the teachers.

Capt. Brown Still Very Ill.

The condition of Capt. S. S. Brown was little improved yesterday. At his home last night it was said he was resting well and seemed to be gaining in strength, but he is still very ill.

A Christmas Offer in

PIANO PLAYERS

It so often happens that the innocent suffer with and because of the guilty.

Because some people have bought other piano players on the theory that "anything would do that played the notes, and didn't cost as much as the Angelus," there have been a lot of dissatisfied owners of piano players, who discovered their mistake after they had paid their money.

Their experiences led them to blame all piano players with the limitations or weaknesses of their own particular player, and they haven't hesitated to tell their friends that piano players were all alike. We have hertofore refused to consider exchanges except in a few instances some time ago. But because some people unthinkingly blame the innocent Angelus with the sins of other players we conclude that were we able to eliminate the unsatisfactory piano players from the situation, the homes made happy by the presence of an Angelus would be increased a hundred-fold in number, and anything we can do to bring about that condition would be not only a stroke of good business for ourselves, but a means of pleasure and profit to many who now deprive themselves of the services of the Angelus because they think any piano player would prove to be unsatisfactory. Of course these other players all play as well as is possible, considering their construction. But the average purchaser does not discover till after he has paid his money how impossible it is to obtain really artistic effects from these cheaper players.

No other piano player in the world has ever been subjected to a test side by side with a fine pianist except the Angelus, and this test proved that Angelus-played and hand-played music could not be distinguished.

No instrument in the world except the Angelus has the Phrasing Lever, the emphasis device and the diaphragm pneumatics. The Angelus of 1905 is the easiest played, the easiest pumped, and the most artistic player on the market—yet its price is but $25.00 higher than that of any other player on the market.

Our Christmas Offer

Our Christmas offer is as follows: We will accept any other make of player—in reasonably good condition—as part payment for a new 1905 model Angelus. You can pay the balance at once or at the rate of $10.00 monthly.

If you will tell us where your present player may be seen we will send a man to see it and promptly tell you how much we can allow for it. We will bring it in, fix it up and sell it in the smaller towns where there is a growing demand for cheap instruments of this class for use in ice cream parlors, billiard and shooting halls and such places.

You will then own a player which will enable you to play both the simple every-day melodies or the classics of the masters as they should be played. You will have no more trouble about your music rolls, because not only can you buy what you please from our immense stock, but you can avail yourself of the various plans of circulating library service, which you cannot find in any other Pittsburg music store.

If you wish we will take your old piano or old player, or both, in part payment for a New Angelus or Playanola Piano, which have the player built inside out of sight. We'd like to send you catalogues.

BIG WAREHOUSE FIGHT IS OPENED

Union Storage Company Asks for Injunction Against Pennsylvania Railroad.

SIDINGS MAY BE CUT OUT

Charging that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company intends to disconnect its tracks with the railroad sidings into its warehouse, at Second and Liberty avenues, the Union Storage Company went into court yesterday and filed a bill in equity for an injunction to restrain the company from changing its tracks in Liberty avenue so as to deprive the Union plant of railroad connection.

It is claimed that if the railroad company succeeds in its plan to cut out the sidings into the warehouse that the Union Company will be driven out of business because it cannot secure communication with any other railroad and cannot get another site downtown upon which to erect a storage plant, and that the present warehouse will have to abandoned at a great loss.

The proceeding to all appearance portends a fight in the warehouse business between the Union Company and the Pennsylvania railroad. The Pennsylvania proposes to construct an extensive system of warehouses at the Point and the Union Company evidently fears that back of the threat of the railroad to cut off the Union Company's railroad facilities is a plan to secure a monopoly of the warehouse trade in the Point and downtown districts.

The Union Company has two tracks running into its plant from the Pennsylvania, one along Liberty avenue and the other along Short street. It is alleged in the petition for an injunction that the Pennsylvania Company intends to abandon the Liberty avenue line and to disconnect its tracks entirely from the branches running into the Union plant.

The plaintiff says that the value of the merchandise it handles annually exceeds $10,000,000 and that it has one of the most complete storage warehouses in the country. The company says it has spent more than $690,000 adapting the property to its business and has improvements aggregating $100,000 in addition now under way. Its location, it is stated, was selected because of the property adjoining the line of the railroad company, whereby direct track communication was secured.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, one of the directors of the Union Storage Company, said the proceeding in court was to determine the switch rights of the storage company and to ascertain if the railroad can cut off its connections with the company's warehouse.

DEFENSE OPENS ITS CASE.

William E. Hunt Is Accused of Dismembering the Body of Susan Geary.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The government closed its side today in the case of Dr. Percy D. McLeod, who is being tried as an accessory to an illegal operation which was performed on Susan A. Geary, the suit case victim. An effort will be made by the defense to show it was William E. Hunt who dismembered the body of the girl.

A Philadelphia detective took the stand for the defense and told of the character of Hunt, who was formerly a Philadelphian, and who is claimed to have made a statement while in Philadelphia that he was a physician and an undertaker too, and that dress suit cases were always handy and the Delaware river nearby. Court adjourned until Friday.

REMARKABLE EXPERIMENTS AND STUDIES ON THE STOMACH.

How To Eat Properly.

BY DR. VALENTINE.

Not long ago Horace Fletcher published a book called "The A. B. Z. of Our Own Nutrition," in which he advocated, "Do right the feeding of your body; Nature will do all the rest for you aright." After a dozen years of uninterrupted experiments upon himself and upon dogs, cats and other animals, Mr. Horace Fletcher concludes that the average human being eats three times as much as is good for him; that by eating only one-third as much and masticating it even more thoroughly than by Gladstone's famous thirty-two bites of each mouthful, a person is assured of unfailing health, strength, contentment and longevity. In a word, he will have annihilated the chief cause of all disease—indigestion. Mr. Fletcher conducted experiments at Yale and Cambridge Universities, and made tests under the auspices of the United States Army. As a result of his experiments he advocates that people should ignore false appetite and wait for a return of normal appetite, which is indicated by a desire for some particular simple food, accompanied by a watering of the mouth—all of which is good advice, but a great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have already ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve, tendon or muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy, which shall be simple but effective. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent makes the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect.

Although some physicians were aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine in combination, or as a solvent, and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce found that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, was best for extracting the medicinal properties from these roots and that it gave added value to a tonic compound in restoring tone and vigor to the entire system without the detrimental effect which alcohol would give. So Dr. Pierce put up what he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, one of the principal ingredients, Golden Seal root, suggesting the name. This preparation is of pleasant taste, agrees perfectly with rebellious and sensitive stomachs, and has sold more largely in the past third of a century than any other medicine put up for like purposes. The test of the merit of a compound is its lasting qualities. Medicines that depend upon the alcohol contained in them for their popularity have never remained long in favor.

Dr. Roberts Bartholow, Professor in Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, a recognized authority on Materia Medica and Therapeutics, says of Hydrastis (Golden Seal root): "Very useful as a stomachic tonic (stomach tonic) and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric catarrh (catarrh of stomach) and headaches accompanying same. Constipation, dependent upon different deficient secretions, with hard and dry stools, may be overcome by the remedy. Chronic catarrh of the intestines, even if it has proceeded to ulceration, is remarkably benefited by Hydrastis. It may be given as a remedy for intermittent, chronic and malarial poisoning, and enlarged spleen of malarial origin. It diminishes mucous in catarrh of the bladder."

From "Organic Medicines," by Grover Coe, M. D., of New York, we extract the following: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator), it has few equals. In affections of the spleen, and abdominal viscera generally, it is an efficient and reliable remedy. Also in scrofula, glandular diseases generally, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, debility, diarrhœa and dysentery, constipation, piles and all morbid and critical discharges."

The "Golden Medical Discovery," not only produces all the good effects to be obtained from the use of Golden Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as in dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root used in its compounding is greatly enhanced in its curative action by the other ingredients mentioned above. Each of its ingredients has the endorsement of those medical writers and teachers most eminent in their profession.

A little book of extracts treating of all the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines, being extracts from standard medical works of the different schools of practice, will be mailed free to any one asking (by postal card or letter) for the same, addressed to Doctor R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and giving the writer's full post-office address, plainly written.

In cases of chronic ailments, attended by marked, or persistent, constipation, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken conjointly with the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery," to regulate the bowels. They act in harmony with the "Discovery," and will be found to be a most valuable laxative, or, in fuller doses a cleansing cathartic.

Podophyllin, the active medicinal principle of Mandrake root, enters largely into the composition of the little sugar-coated "Pellets," in fact is one of their chief ingredients. They regulate the liver, stomach and bowels.

CHAPTER VIII.

The Czar's Messenger.

I drew out my watch and glanced at it by the light of the flaring stoke-hole. It was just half-past eight.

The time taken up on the journey between Petersburg and Moscow varies greatly according to the state of the weather and the amount of snow on the line. But even in the summer the best trains are allowed 12 hours, while the slow ones take nearly 24. The special Siberian express was timed to reach the ancient capital of the czar at 10 o'clock in the morning, and we had overtaken it with rather more than an hour to spare.

I ordered the driver to creep up gradually, but not to approach too near the hindmost coach of the train in front until Moscow was in sight.

Obedient to my instructions, he slackened speed by degrees, till we were rolling along at the same rate as the express, with a space of 300 or 400 yards between us.

Presently a red flag was thrust out from a side window at the rear of the last coach and waved furiously. The driver of my engine responded with first a green and then a white signal, indication that there was no danger though caution was desirable.

The express perceptibly quickened its speed, but of course without our allowing it to get farther ahead. At last the spires of the Kremlin, and the green copper domes gleamed out across the waste, and I nodded to the driver to close up.

He managed the maneuver with the skill of an artist. Inch by inch we neared the guard's van in front, and our buffers were actually touching as the engine in front blew off steam, and we slowed alongside the Moscow station.

Before the wheels of the express had ceased to move I was out on the platform, and running up to the guard of the express.

"I have come on the pilot engine from Petersburg," I told him hurriedly. "Tell no one of my arrival. Do not report the chase. If you are questioned, say that you have orders to say nothing. And now tell me which is the train for Dalny and Port Arthur, and when does it leave?"

The guard, thoroughly cowed, promised implicit obedience. He showed me a long corridor train with handsome sleeping cars and dining saloons, which was drawn up ready at another platform.

"That is the train which goes to Baikal," he told me. "If the ice on the lake will bear, rails may be laid right across it, if not, there will be sleighs to transport the passengers to a train on the other side. The train leaves at noon."

I thanked him and strolled off down the platform, glancing into the carriages of the new express train as I passed in search of the czar's messenger.

I did not anticipate that any harm could have happened to him so soon after leaving Petersburg. The object of the conspirators would be defeated if Nicholas II. learned of any accident to his messenger in time to send another dispatch. It was more likely, at least so I argued, that the Princess Y—— would accompany her victim across Siberia, gradually worming her way into his confidence, and that only at the last moment would she show her hand.

It was with a slight start that I encountered the face of the fair emissary of M. Petrovitch, as she came to the door of her sleeping compartment and looked out.

I was delighted to observe that this time she did not suspect me. In fact, she evidently mistook me for one of the ordinary station officials, for she gave me a haughty command:

"Go and see if there is a telegram for the Princess Y——."

Making a respectful salute I hastened off in the direction of the telegraph office. On the way I interrupted a man in uniform carrying an envelope in his hand.

"For the Princess Y——?" I demanded.

The man scowled at me and made as if to conceal the telegram. I saw that it was a case for a tip and handed him a ruble note, on which he promptly parted with his trust.

I turned around, and as soon as the messenger had moved off, I tore open the envelope and read the message. Fortunately, it was not in cipher, the rules against any such use of the wires, except by the government, being too strict. This is what I read:

"Our friend, who is now an inspector, will join you at Moscow. Look out for him. He has left his luggage with us, but does not know it."

Accident, which had hitherto opposed my designs, was favoring them at last. It was clear that Rostoy had betrayed me, and that Petrovitch had sent this wire to the princess to put her on her guard. But what was the "luggage" which I was described as having left in the hands of M. Petrovitch?

I thought I knew.

Crumpling up the tell-tale message in my pocket, I darted into the telegraph office, and beckoned to the clerk in charge.

"On his majesty's secret service," I breathed in his ear, drawing him on one side. I showed him my police badge, and added, "An envelope and telegram form, quick!"

Overwhelmed by my imperative manner, he handed me the required articles. I hastily scribbled:

"Our friend has parted with his luggage, though he does not know it. He has been unwell, but may follow you next week. To save trouble do not wire to us till you return."

Slipping this into the envelope I addressed it to the princess and hastened back to the carriage where I had left her.

I found her fuming with impatience and scolding her maid, who looked on half awake.

I handed her the bogus telegram with a cringing gesture. She snatched at it, tore off the cover and read, while I watched her furtively from under my lowered eyelashes.

The first part of the message evidently gave her the greatest pleasure. The second part, it was equally evident, puzzled and annoyed her.

"Fool! What is he afraid of now?" she muttered beneath her breath.

She stood gnawing her rose-red lips for a moment—even a slight passed in the train could not make her look less charming—and then turned to me.

"That will do. No answer. Here, Marie, give this man a couple of rubles."

I received the gratuity with a look of satisfaction which must have surprised the tired waiting maid. In reality I had scored a most important point. Thanks to my suppression of the first message and my addition to the second, I had completely cut off communication between the agent of the syndicate and its head in Petersburg, for a time; while I had lulled the beautiful plotter into a false security, by which I was likely to benefit.

My anxieties considerably lightened for the time being, I now renewed my search for Colonel Menken.

The train from Petersburg had emptied by this time, so I moved across the station, where the luxurious Manchurian express was being boarded by its passengers.

I got in at one end and made my way slowly along the corridors, stepping over innumerable bags and other light articles. In a corner of the smoking car I came at last upon the man I sought.

Colonel Menken was a young man for his rank, not over 30, with a fine, soldierly figure, handsome face and rather dandified air. He wore a brilliant uniform, which looked like that of some crack regiment of guards. A cigar was in his mouth, and he was making a little nest for himself with rugs and books and papers, and a box of choice Havanas. A superb dispatch box with silver mounts, was plainly marked with his initials, also in silver.

I did not dare to choose a seat for myself in the same part of the train as the man whom I was anxious to guard. The oppressive powers wielded by the police of Russia are tolerated only on one condition, namely, that they are never abused to the disparagement of the social importance of the aristocracy.

Bearing this in mind, I proceeded to the coach set aside for the servants of the rich passengers, and contrived to secure a place close to that occupied in the day-time by the maid of the Princess.

Having more than an hour to spare, I now laid in a large stock of Turkish tobacco and cigaret papers, so as to have some means of beguiling the time on the long, wearisome run across Asia. I also bought a second-hand valise, and stocked it modestly with clothes. Finally I made a hearty breakfast in the station restaurant, and boarded the train a few minutes before it rolled out of Moscow.

Needless to say, I had introduced myself to the superintendent of the train, an official of great dignity and importance. As a police agent, of course I travelled free on the government lines. The superintendent was good enough to offer me a spare bed in his private cabin at the end of the train, and during the run we became the best of friends.

But I must be excused from dwelling on the details of the journey, not the first I had taken on the great transasiatic line. My whole energies were absorbed in two tasks. In the first place, I had to gain the confidence of the maid, Marie, and in the second to prevent her mistress gaining the confidence of the messenger of the Czar.

"I hope that message I brought to the Princess did not contain any bad news?" I said to Marie as soon as I got a chance of addressing her.

This was when we were fairly on the way.

After first attending to her mistress, and seeing that she was comfortably settled, the maid was at liberty to look after herself, and I had seized the opportunity to render her a few trifling services with her luggage.

"I don't know, I am sure," was the answer to my question. "The Princess tells me nothing of her secrets."

"Perhaps the Princess Y——"

"Oh, let's call her Sophy," the maid interrupted crossly.

Needless to say I welcomed these symptoms that Marie was no great friend of her employer.

"Perhaps she has no secrets," I continued. "Have you been with her long."

"Only six months," was the answer. "And I don't think I shall stay much longer. But you are quite mistaken if you think Sophy is one of the innocent ones. She's always up to some mischief or other, though what it is, I don't know."

"If you stay with her a little longer, you may find out. And then, if it is anything political, you may make a good deal of money out of her."

The girl's eyes brightened.

"Keep yours eyes open," I said. "Look out for any scraps of paper you see lying about. Keep a diary of the places Sophy goes to, and the people she sees. And when you have anything to tell, let me know. I will give you my address in Petersburg. And you may trust me to see that you come off well."

Marie readily agreed to all I asked of her. The understanding thus arrived at was destined to be of the greatest assistance to me. Indeed, it is not too much to say that to this young Russian girl it is due that the two greatest Powers in the Old World are not at this moment battling on the Afghan frontier.

We had hardly been an hour under way before I saw the two objects of my watchfulness seated side by side in the drawing-room car, apparently on the friendliest terms.

Dismayed by this rapid progress, as it seemed, on the part of the Princess, I reproached myself for not having warned Colonel Menken before we started.

I resolved to put him on his guard at the earliest possible moment, and with that view I hung about the smoking-car, waiting till I saw him return to his corner.

This was not for some hours. Fortunately, owing to the universal expectation of war, there were not many passengers proceeding to the Far East. The train was practically empty, and so when Colonel Menken had seated himself once more in the snug corner he had prepared for himself, I was able to approach him without fear of being overheard.

He was just lighting a cigar as I came up, and took no notice of my respectful salute till he had inhaled the tobacco smoke two or three times and expelled it through his nostrils to test the flavor.

At last he turned to me.

"Well?" he said with some sharpness. "What is the matter?"

"I have seen in the passenger list that you are travelling on the service of the Czar," I answered, "and I venture to place myself at your orders."

Colonel Menken scowled at me haughtily.

"Does that mean that you want a tip?" he sneered. "Or has some fool ordered you to shadow me?"

"Neither, Colonel," I replied. "I am a servant of the Czar like yourself, as you may see from my uniform, and as I have reason to fear that there is an enemy of his majesty on the train, I wish to put you on your guard."

Menken gave a self-confident smile.

"I am pretty well able to take care of myself, I believe," he said boastfully. "As for the Nihilists, I no longer believe in their existence. You may point out the man you suspect, if you like, of course."

"It is not a man, Colonel, it is a woman."

"In that case the adventure promises to be interesting. I do not know any of the women on board except the Princess Y——."

"You know her!" I allowed a note of surprise to appear in my voice.

"The Princess is related to me," the Czar's messenger declared, with a rebuking frown. "I presume she is not the object of your suspicions?"

"And if she were?"

"If she were, I should tell you that you had made a very absurd mistake, my good fellow. The Princess is in the confidence of the Dowager Empress; she is perfectly aware of the object of my mission, and she has just promised me that if I carry it out successfully she will become my wife."

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

BOTH ELEVENS ARE IN FINE SHAPE

W. U. P. and State Each Confident of Winning the Game This Afternoon.

THE OFFICIALS ARE CHOSEN

The Western University of Pennsylvania and State college meet in their annual football game this afternoon at Exposition park. Both teams are in fine shape for the game. McKean, the big center of the W. U. P. eleven, will be unable to play, but Turner, who has had experience at the position on a western college team, will snap the ball. Coach Golden, of State, last night declared his pupils are in fine trim, and he added that if his players work true to form they will surely win.

The State squad was to spend the night in Greensburg, coming to Pittsburgh this morning, but a change of the program brought the team to Pittsburgh last night about 9:30. It was that hour when the State players, with Cal. Moorhead in the lead, began to troop into the corridor of the Fort Pitt hotel, much to the surprise of the throng of State men who were renewing acquaintances and swapping stories of past days. The team was permitted to stay amongst its friends for about one hour, when Golden ordered it to bed.

The W. U. P. eleven was given signal practice yesterday afternoon. The playing field is expected to be to the liking of W. U. P. today. The strong wind which blew across it yesterday and last night helped to make it firm.

The W. U. P. students, headed by the student band, will parade the downtown streets before the game. The State cadet band will be present in the grandstand. The officials will be E. P. Young, Cornell, referee; Okeson, Lehigh, umpire, and Henry Butterworth, head linesman. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and 35-minute halves will be played. The lineup:

W. U. P.		State.
Perry	L.E.	Barr, Leathers
Miller	L.T.
Yielding	L.G.	Kunkle
Turner	C.	Dunn
Edgar	R.G.	Putnam
Marshall	R.T.	Gotwals
East	R.E.	Campbell, Burns
F. Griggs	Q.B.	Moorhead, Henry
A. Griggs	L.H.	Yeckley (capt.)
Schmidt (capt.)	R.H.	McIlveen, Miller
Mehl	F.B.	Magee, Zink

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Everything is in readiness for the big game here tomorrow afternoon with Lehigh. The field is in splendid shape, mud being almost ankle deep. The team is in good condition and everything points to an extraordinary large crowd. Duffy, the scrub who made such a good showing against the Indians, will start the game at end. Otherwise the lineup will be practically the same as in the Carlisle game. Mortee and McCracken will officiate. They are both U. of P. men. This is the lineup:

W. & J.		Lehigh.
Hupp	L.E.	Herman
Bridges	L.T.	Brumbaugh
Booth, Seaman	L.G.	Strauss
Butler	C.	Pierce
Stuart	R.G.	Johnston
Reasor	R.T.	Olcott
Duffow	R.E.	Gott
McFarland	Q.B.	Payne
Daugherty	L.H.	Lawyer, Smartt
Morris	R.H.	Fulton, Stocker
Wright, Specht	F.B.	Bachman

The Lehigh football team is in Pittsburgh, arriving last night. It leaves for Washington this morning to play W. and J. this afternoon.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL NEWS FROM EAST AND WEST

Princeton sophomores won the annual cane spree from freshmen Tuesday by carrying off all three events. Over 700 students witnessed the bouts, and class rivalry was intense.

The greatest surprise was the heavyweight match, in which E. Stamm, 150, the 220-pound football player, was easily defeated by superior headwork. The match was won by N. P. Wheeler, Jr., 1908, in 3 minutes, 25 seconds. In the lightweight spree, A. H. Ormond, 1908, defeated C. F. Cist, 1906, by taking the cane in 2 minutes, 55 seconds.

The middleweight proved the closest contest, and was won by J. R. Dickson, 1906, from J. A. Cook, 1909, in the second round under nine minutes of work.

It is now an assured fact that Dr. Bull will return to coach the Lafayette team next fall. Prof. F. A. March announced at the last meeting of the Junior Alumni association of Easton that Dr. Bull's services had been secured for two more years. The announcement was greeted with cheers, as the alumni are more than satisfied with his work.

The Haverford college football team has elected Ernest Fuller Jones of the class of 1907 captain of the football team for next year.

OLD LEAGUE PLAYERS SHOWING UP WELL

The official batting averages of the American association are out and show that old National league players top the list. Outside of Clay, the Louisville man, who leads, nearly all the others are old-timers, as a glance at the list will show. Hemphill, Morrison, Jones, Geier, Pickering, Dexter, Congalton, Marshall and Josh Clarke all played in the National league. The averages of the first 15 players are:

Japanese Wrestlers Coming Here.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 29.—The steamer Iyo Maru brought news that a group of famous wrestlers, including the noted Kodimiri and Komagatake, who have made a successful tour in Korea and China, will shortly start on an American tour.

AMONG THE BOXERS.

Great interest is being manifested in the coming boxing show to be given in the Wilmerding auditorium on December 13, under the management of the Wilmerding A. C. The main bout will be between Joe Alton of Pittsburg, and Joe Morgan, the 115-pound amateur champion, which title he won two years ago from Joe Young at the tournament held in McKeesport. There will be six preliminaries. One bout of interest will be between James Sullivan and Young Claus, who showed good form last winter.

Frank Morgan went through some hard work yesterday in preparation for his bout with Curley Supples at Charleroi on Monday. Supples will be the best man Morgan has met in his whole career.

Kid Goodman and Abe Attell will meet at Baltimore tonight in a 15-round contest.

At Cincinnati tonight Gus Bezerah and Big Mackey are scheduled to meet for 15 rounds. It should be a good bout.

Sully Stroop and Billy Ryan, the latter from Syracuse, will meet for 15 rounds at Erie tonight. Sully has been training with Curley Supples at Charleroi and is always in good shape. They will meet at 139 pounds.

Betting on the Fitzsimmons-O'Brien fight at San Francisco on December 20 has not yet begun. California bettors are watching the training of Ruby Rob.

At the show of the North Side Gymnasium club on December 11 Tommy Graham will have a four-round go with Eddie Zang, the Jackson brothers will go three rounds, Jack Rowe and Young Sharkey will have a four-round bout and Jack Ruse and Dick Evans, in the welter bout, will go six rounds. Charles Reinecke, the wrestler, will act as referee.

Next Monday on that occasion four of the cleverest boxers of Philadelphia will be called upon to face a like number of Pittsburgh's leading exponents of the manly art of self-defense. Manager Mason, who has the affair in charge, has thus far complied with all the rules laid down by the authorities, even to engaging a physician to pass upon the condition of the men before they enter the ring, and he is confident that the contests will be about the most interesting held in Pittsburgh in many years. Moore, Poenecke, Alton and Zirrlinger, the fighters selected to defend Pittsburgh's colors, are all training faithfully, while word comes from Philadelphia that Jack Johnson, the heavyweight who has charge of the Quaker City sophomore, will have his men in the pink of condition.

MICHIGAN IS 2 TO 1 FAVORITE OVER CHICAGO

Coach Stagg, However, Says He Will Be Returned Winner Over the Mighty Yost.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The football teams of the University of Chicago and of the University of Michigan will meet on Marshall field tomorrow, to contest for the middle-western football championship. This year for the first time in several seasons, the winning team will have a clear title to the championship, as one team or the other has defeated all contestants, directly or indirectly, who have aspired to the honor. Both Chicago and Michigan have defeated Wisconsin university, which in turn defeated Minnesota university, the team that for years has made the strongest claims for participation in first honors with Michigan or Chicago. Nebraska and Iowa universities suffered defeat at the hands of Minnesota, while Chicago has downed Northwestern, Illinois, Purdue and Indiana universities. Michigan's score against Wisconsin was 12 to 0, while Chicago's was 4 to 0. This makes Michigan a 2 to 1 favorite over Chicago in tomorrow's game.

Michigan will go into tomorrow's game with the full team, Schulte, left guard, playing, despite the report that he would be protested by Chicago. The Chicago team will lose Da Tray, one of its strongest players, who suffered injuries in a game with Northwestern university several weeks ago. Boone, another of Chicago's best players, the man depended on to take De Tray's place, has been disqualified on account of having played football four years.

Michigan has the heavier team, its total weight being 2,080 pounds. Chicago's total weight is 2,041 pounds.

Coach Yost and his squad, numbering 24 players, reached Chicago this afternoon, confident of a victory tomorrow. "Michigan has come to win," said Yost, "and we do not expect to be disappointed. I have had a hard time in convincing my players that we are going to have the hardest game in five years. I look for a great contest, with Michigan the winner."

Coach Stagg of Chicago is just as sanguine that Chicago will be victorious. "I regard our chances of winning tomorrow the best since 1901, and we are favored by an even break of luck and if every man on the team goes in and plays the best football that is in him, I honestly believe we shall win."

The intended lineup follows:

Michigan.		Weight.

Buckneil Hopeful, but Not Sure.

LEWISBURG, PA., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Bucknell's team left today for Easton, where the final game of the season will be played tomorrow with Lafayette. Capt. Cooper's men are fit for a hard struggle, but scarcely anticipate a victory over the maroon and white. McNinch, left halfback, is laid up with a sprained back and will not enter the game. Hawk will replace McNinch, although Quarterback Frank has a broken nose, an effort will be made to play him. Bucknell's lineup with Bell, Winegardner, left end; Baldwin, left tackle; Shade, left guard; O'Brien, center; Cooper, right guard; Lenhart, right tackle; Binns, right end; Frank, quarterback; Hawk, left halfback; Oberdorf, right halfback; Talbert, fullback. Veil of University of Pennsylvania, and Bergen, Princeton, will officiate.

SHILOHS TAKE ALL THREE GAMES

Down the Ormsby in the South Pittsburgh League in Easy Fashion.

BANKERS DO GOOD WORK

There were no games scheduled for last night in any of the sections of the Allegheny County league. In the South Pittsburg league, on the Southern alleys, the Shiloha took all three games from the Ormsbys. Nothing out of the ordinary took place, except that two scores below 100 were made. Nevin had high score of 129, one pin within the limit, and Weber had 197, three pins below the 200 mark. The Ormsbys did pretty well in the first game, but in the next two were absolutely outclassed. Nevin was the star bowler, getting an average of 171 1-3. Land followed him with an average of 164 1-3. What did Dugan do? Why he did the best bowling for Ormsby, getting an average of 154 1-3. Rebholz did his best to win for his side by getting an average of 147 1-3. Scores:

Ormsby—				Shiloha—
Rebholz	171	150	127	Tuley	129	152	120
Weber	111	99	197	Land	182	184	177

The strong Keystones of Beaver Falls came to the city last night and again tried to demonstrate that they were the superiors of a picked team of bowlers known as the Pittsburghs on the Club alleys. They met this combination on their home alleys a few weeks ago and were defeated two out of three games. Last night they tried to retrieve their losses and were again sadly disappointed. Hagerman of the Keystones was the boss bowler, with high score of 223 and the best average. Reich and Fruchey also chalked up 200 scores. Rupp did fine work except in the second game. Scores:

DETAILS OF MATCH BETWEEN LITTLE ONES

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Terrible Terry McGovern and Battling Nelson were matched yesterday to fight a six-round bout in Philadelphia some time between January 5 and 12. The match, which will be fought in the Second Regiment armory, was arranged by Bob Deady, the Philadelphia fight promoter. Deady met Joe Humphreys, McGovern's manager, in Sam Harris' office and handed him the articles of agreement calling for the match. After Humphreys had read them over he affixed his signature to them, and Sam Harris posted a forfeit of $1,000 with Deady as a guarantee that McGovern would be on hand ready to fight on the date selected for the battle.

The articles call for the fighters to engage in a six-round bout at the above-mentioned place, at 135 pounds, weigh in at 9 p. m. on the night of the contest. They will battle for 15 per cent of the gross receipts, which will be divided equally by the men. They will be permitted to wear soft bandages.

Thomas G. Murphy of the Hotel Scott of Philadelphia was selected as the official stakeholder. Bill Rocap, the sporting reviewer of the Quaker City, was selected as the referee of the bout.

After the articles had been signed by Humphreys, Matchmaker Deady sent a telegram to Billy Nolan, manager of Nelson, who is in Cleveland, stating that Humphreys had signed for McGovern, and that the articles would be forwarded to him immediately for his signature. As Nolan has already agreed to make the match for Nelson just as soon as Humphreys accepted Deady's terms, there is every reason to believe that he will lose no time in signing for the bout.

McGovern will begin training for the contest next week, as he wants to be in the best of shape for the fight.

Gus Bezenan will meet Tommy Felty tonight at Cincinnati instead of Big Mackey. The lads will go 15 rounds. Felty arrived in Cincinnati from Baltimore on Tuesday.

At Philadelphia on Monday night Chick Tucker put it all over Tommy Mowatt in six rounds.

Twin Sullivan, who defeated Jimmy Gardner last week, got the decision over Mike Schreck in a 20-round contest at Los Angeles on Tuesday night. The fight was fast.

Gus Gardner is now at Buffalo training for a fight with McCarthy, the ex-newsboy, which will take place on Monday night. They will meet at 135 pounds.

PRINCETON IS PREPARING FOR ARMY-NAVY GAME

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—The advance guard of the Army-Navy crowd will begin to arrive here Friday morning. The Navy team will arrive about noon and will spend the night at the Princeton inn. A short signal practice will be held on University field in the afternoon. The Army squad will come down from New York on Saturday morning.

The management has frustrated the attempt of speculators to get hold of 200 remaining tickets which will be placed on sale tomorrow morning at Spalding's, New York. It will be quite a problem for a town the size of Princeton to feed a crowd of 20,000, and it has made special arrangements to provide for as many as possible. Luncheon will be served at University hall and the old gymnasium and at tents which will be erected near the railroad siding and the athletic field. Special accommodations will be provided for the big string of automobiles that will come from Philadelphia and New York. A force of 115 Pinkerton detectives will be employed to take tickets at the grounds and watch out for speculators.

PRES. ELIOT REFUSES TO DISCUSS COLUMBIA MOVE

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 29.—President Eliot of Harvard declined today to comment upon the action of the committee of Columbia university in abolishing football. President Eliot permitted it to be known that he had received the proposition of Chancellor McCracken of New York university to call a meeting of college residents to consider the question of football, because he thought that college presidents were not a competent body to deal with reform in the game.

J. D. Greene, secretary to President Eliot said that it was the purpose of the head of Harvard to say whatever he had to say on the subject in his annual report to the university, which will be presented in February, 1906.

GROVE CITY CALLS OFF GAME WITH WESTMINSTER

NEW WILMINGTON, PA., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Late last evening the Grove City college football team canceled its date with the Westminster eleven for the Thanksgiving day game which was to be played here. This action will probably cause a rupture of athletic relations between the two colleges, as Grove City gave no excuse for the cancellation. In a former game between the two colleges Westminster won 59 to 0, and it is thought in New Wilmington that the weakness of the Grove City team is responsible for the date being canceled.

Leetsdale Beats Perrysville.

Leetsdale defeated Perrysville in a hotly-contested game last night at Leetsdale 23 to 10. Both teams played a fast game and the team work of Leetsdale was the feature. In a fast preliminary the Leetsdale second team defeated the Perrysville second team 16 to 11. Lineup:

COLUMBIA NOT PLAYING FOR FOOTBALL REFORM

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—To dispose of rumors that the action of the Columbia faculty committee on undergraduate organizations in abolishing football at Columbia was taken merely to force the rules committee to reform the game and that the game may be revised at Columbia when such a result is attained, Dean George W. Kitchwey of the Columbia university law school made the following statement today:

"The action of the faculty, as I understand it, is not aimed at association football or the so-called Rugby game, but at the game of football as it now exists in our American colleges. But this statement is not to be taken to mean that the action of the committee was taken in order to force reforms on the rules committee. There is no reason to believe that the committee or that the football element in our college has any conception of the discredit into which this game has fallen, and no reason, therefore, to hope for a revision of the rules that will have any material influence on the game. But the truth is that the worst features of the game are such as no revision of the rules will reach—the dishonest and unsportsmanlike spirit which the game at present fosters. A revision of the rules can at best do no more than relieve the game of some of the dangers to life and limb which it now involves and to render the playing of 'dirty' football a little less easy of concealment."

RIVER FRONTAGE BOUGHT BY P.&L.E.

BANK BUYS NINTH STREET LOT

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company has made an important addition to its landed holdings by the purchase of four plots of land just above Glassport for $55,500. The parcels comprise a strip varying from 100 to 300 feet in width and extending from the borough line of Glassport up the Monongahela river nearly one mile to the old Pollock station, the site now occupied by the American Ax and Tool Company's plant. For the Fritch farm of eight acres adjoining Glassport the railroad company paid $15,500, or nearly $2,000 an acre. This is reported to have been about the price paid for the other three plots known as the Lynch farm, five acres, the Jenkins farm, five acres, and the 10 acres belonging to the United States Glass Company. All the land is subject to overflow, and will have to be filled in considerably at points to make it available for the railroad. The strip lie between the railroad tracks and the Monongahela river, only one parcel, the Jenkins lot, being crossed by the railroad. The Fritch farm is a well-known property having been used for years as a fishing and camping ground by McKeesporters.

This deal makes it possible for the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie to greatly relieve the congestion of its freight traffic. At present the railroad has only one through track from Glassport nearly to Elizabeth, on account of the bluffs. Glassport, from a freight standpoint, is important, as practically all the coal of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and the river companies is weighed there. This requires constant breaking up of trains to permit for the weighing of single cars, and makes that division of the system very much congested. Four tracks will be laid on the property bought, it is said, which will give the railroad a big addition to its yard room.

More Property for the Bank.

The National Bank of Western Pennsylvania is getting ready to spread out. Yesterday its agents bought the property of W. P. Fraser at 35 Ninth street for $36,000, or nearly $2,000 a front foot. The lot measures 18.3x57 feet on the east side of the street and is improved with an old brick house used as a printing office which rents for about $1,500 a year. It will be remembered that last Saturday the Boehm and Dickson lots at 37 and 39 Ninth street were sold, as announced, to Pennock Hart, who proves to have been only the nominal buyer. These lots, which cost $72,000, were secured for the bank and a deal is now pending for the remaining lots in the square at the corner of Fayette street, which are on the map of the property of H. Whiting. These have a frontage of 36.6x57 feet and the improvements are of only nominal value. If the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania gets these two lots it will have one of the best corners in that part of the business section of Pittsburgh. It now has a frontage of 40.4 feet in Penn avenue at the northeast corner of Ninth street, and with the five lots mentioned would have a depth along Ninth street of 158.8 feet to Fayette street. Diagonally opposite is the Westinghouse building and in the two squares below on both sides of Penn avenue the lots are being improved with a class of buildings that would do credit to any part of the city, among the newer ones being the Bigelow building, the Fort Pitt hotel and the Henry Phipps building. It was reported yesterday that the bank has no idea of building soon, but is looking ahead to a time when its increasing business and the growing importance of the corner may justify such a move. For weeks a rumor has been prevalent that the consolidation was to be effected between the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania and the Iron City Trust Company, and that it was for this purpose that the Iron City lately sold its real estate branch, the Union Realty Company. This report has been repeatedly denied, but the recent purchases by the bank give it new color.

Fine Home for Westmoreland Club.

Through the agency of George Brothers the Westmoreland Country club yesterday secured title to the Andrew McMillan farm of 60 acres in Penn township, between Wilkinsburg and Verona, for $54,000, or $900 an acre. The organization which made the purchase has a large membership among prominent Hebrews in the city, its president being Moses Lehman, of Lehman & Klingsbackher, clothing manufacturers. Morris Bar of Kaufmann Brothers, is also largely interested in the welfare of the club. The farm which it secured is less than a half-mile south of Sandy Creek station, on the Allegheny Valley railroad, and is instersected by the Wilkinsburg and Verona street car line. It occupies the crest of the ridge overlooking Verona, and is especially desirable owing to the fact that it is about the only farm in that neighborhood that can be called level. The club has bought the land for a permanent home, and in addition to building a costly club house, will lay out golf links and provide other out-of-door amusements.

The same brokers have sold to A. A. Lazarus of the Walkover Shoe Company, the farm of Shortle Crowe, consisting of 36 acres in Penn township, for $14,500, or about $400 an acre. The farm is near the McMillan farm for which Mr. Lazarus was a prospective buyer a few weeks ago. It overlooks the Saltsburg road, and is only a short distance from Sandy Creek. It is the intention of the buyer to build a handsome residence and occupy the property for a summer home. The deal was made through Woods & Coleman of the East End.

Sells Five Houses for $52,500.

The Home Trust Company has sold for George N. Powell to a local investor five new 10-room reception hall brick houses on the south side of Walnut street, between Dunlavy and Shady avenues, Twentieth ward, for $52,500, or $10,500 each. The houses are finished throughout in hard wood, have two tile bathrooms and stand on lots 27x80 feet. They are rented for $55 a month each. These residences are five of six that Mr. Powell built in the square, only one being left unsold. That the Twentieth ward is an attractive place in the minds of home buyers is shown by the fact that each of 17 houses which Mr. Powell has built in the last two years in Walnut and Howe streets and Stratton lane he has only one left unsold.

Through the Aronson-Friedman Company James Cohen has sold to a local attorney the property at 1202-1204 Penn avenue for $24,000. The lot measures 32x90 feet and has erected on it two frame buildings occupied as stores and dwellings. There are rented for $1,800 a year. The rate of sale is $727 a front foot, or $14.54 a square foot.

Frank L. Steen, the real estate broker, has sold to J. G. Chaifant a handsome center-hall brick house on 68x175 feet at Wilkins and Murray Hill avenues, Twenty-second ward, for $37,000. Mr. Steen bought the property November 1 from James Crosby for $35,000, and he in turn got it from L. T. Yoder in an exchange deal in which the Second avenue holdings of the latter were involved.

Power for Municipal Light Plant.

The plans of the men who propose to establish an immense power plant just above the new Springdale dam on the Allegheny river are progressing rapidly and it is expected that some definite points in the scheme will be settled soon. A well-known eastern engineer is preparing the plans for the plant, all the property necessary for its erection as well as the water rights having been secured several months ago. Several reports have been current lately as to the uses to which the power would be put. One of the most interesting of these is that it may be used for the proposed municipal light plant. The company has abundant power and is backed by some of the best-known capitalists in the city.

The rapidity with which big realty deals are being announced from McKeesport shows that the predictions made a few years ago that the Tube City was destined to make wonderful strides before it would come into Greater Pittsburgh are being amply fulfilled. In addition to the half-dozen sales of over $30,000 which have been announced this month there are now pending three deals of $55,000 each for property in the business district of McKeesport, which, if they go through, will result in some fine buildings being erected. Besides the tremendous impetus which the big tube plant is giving the town the practical assurance of another big steel plant at Christy park because of W. L. Curry's purchase there, is stimulating interest all over the place. It is to be noted that although prices are advancing rapidly most of the properties bought lately pay from four to five per cent net on the investments which cannot be said of deals in downtown Pittsburgh.

A Very Popular Oasis.

The new $40,000 hotel at old Economy, now Ambridge, is just open for business. It has the only license on that side of the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and Economy. The building is a very handsome four-story brick containing about 80 rooms and was erected on the lot at Orchard street and Bryden road, which is so well known as the "auction lot" from its having been bid off at auction at the Economy sale 18 months ago.

WOMEN WILL BE SAVED BIG COSTS

Court Refuses to Allow Constables and Witnesses Large Fees in Graft Cases.

NEGROES WANT NEW TRIALS

Until further notice, by order of Judge Macfarlane, no costs in the cases of the 43 Allegheny women will be taxed by Sheriff Dickson. This order, it is said, was made necessary owing to the fact that constables and witnesses who were put to work during the "graft" crusade securing evidence and serving warrants have been trying to collect costs considered by the court out of all proportion to the amount of work they have done.

When the crusade of the keepers of disorderly houses in Allegheny was started last spring nearly two score constables from all over Allegheny county were called upon to assist in arresting the 100 or more women involved. In some instances a constable was given as many as a dozen warrants to serve. Previous to this witnesses had been sent to visit the houses and secure evidence, and when the cases of the women were called in court witnesses were in court each day the cases were on the trial list. All the women entered pleas of no defense and Sheriff Dickson was deluged with claims for costs from the constables and witnesses who had not had a chance to testify.

Constables who had served a dozen or more warrants and detectives who had secured evidence against as many women who kept houses put in claims for costs for each case they had been connected with. One man who was in court each day, and who was ready to furnish evidence against all of the women who were called into court, made a claim for $311, witness fees, $1 a day for each day he was in court to appear against each defendant.

It is understood the court will make an order allowing witness fees in one case only.

Judges Macfarlane and Brown heard arguments in the cases of John, alias "Bud" Williams, and Cornelius Combs, negroes, convicted of first degree murder, and who want new trials. Attorneys W. F. Petty and Joseph Mayhugh appeared for Combs and Attorney J. W. Holmes for Williams. Attorney R. W. Tannehill argued the case of Chrisland Bauer, convicted of robbing the tombs and desecrating the graves of priests at St. Mary's cemetery, Allegheny, and stealing silver name plates and handles from the caskets. Decisions were reserved in all cases.

Hearing in the Walsh Estate.

Judge Over took testimony on the exceptions to the executor's account in the estate of John E. Walsh, the contractor, who was shot by Walter P. Kountz in 1902. Exceptions were taken to the uncollected accounts as credited in the account. Only one witness, a bookkeeper, was examined, who testified to the account being made from a statement drawn from the books by him.

Samuel Mather, Flora S. Mather, Clara S. Hay and Attorney Horace F. Baker, ancillary administrators of the estate of the late Secretary of State John Hay, have begun proceedings against J. R. Collins & Co. for $9,564.50, which is alleged to be due on a five-year lease of the Livingstone apartment house at Cleveland, O., owned by the late secretary and the other plaintiffs. It is alleged it was leased to the other defendants in 1897 and $5,900 suspended to fix it up to suit them. The annual rental was to be $6,204, and, it is claimed, the defendants abandoned it in June, 1900.

The third and final account of Receiver Alexander McClure for the McKeesport Sawmill Company was confirmed by the court. After deducting $12,000 for his services and $1,000 for attorney's fees, a balance of $48,654.68 is left for distribution, out of which $10,842.53 has been paid.

Toboggan Slide Suit.

In the suit of the Haverhill Roller Company of Massachusetts against Frederick Ingersoll, manager of Luna park, to recover $500 for toboggans alleged to have been erected without consent, Judge Shuffington will decide the legal phase by consent.

The suit of the Lippincott Glass Company of Alexandria, Ind., against the H. L. Dixon Company of Pittsburgh, in which the plaintiff wants $20,000, alleging its plant was not properly erected, is on trial in the United States court.

A bill in equity was filed by the borough of Crafton against Allegheny county, the Pittsburgh, Mansfield & Crafton Railway Company, the Pittsburgh Railways Company, lessee of the latter company, and Wood, Harmon & Co., to restrain the defendants from allowing waste water to run from Crafton Terrace into the borough sewers.

Divorce suits entered: Cornelia Miser vs. William Miser, desertion; Catherine Seamon vs. Matthew Seamon, desertion; Concordia S. Damico vs. Sebastino Damico, infidelity; James R. Barnes vs. Flora B. Barnes, cruelty.

The divorce proceeding of Anna Morris against John Morris was referred back to the master by the court for further consideration.

Sale of Drug Store Ordered.

Theodore Cappell, receiver for Schilling Bros.' Company, secured an order for the sale of the stock of the Highland pharmacy to the Siegfried Drug Company for $2,310.

D. R. Edwards was appointed receiver of the Penn Fruit and Produce Company in an amicable proceeding brought by G. V. L. Wickerham and others and joined in by the company by its president, Myles McConnon, by a resolution of the board of directors.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Samuel Galinsky, a shoe dealer of Erie, Pa., by the J. Hostetter Shoe Company, Isaac Baker & Son and the Standard Manufacturing Company, all also of Erie. The claims of the petitioners aggregate $961.91 and set forth that Galinsky is insolvent and that he allowed preferred creditors to execute judgments.

Two voluntary petitions in bankruptcy were also filed: Benton S. Magill & Son, hardware merchants, of Tidioute, Warren county, with liabilities at $8,531.41 and assets $7,287.95, and Samuel Klein, merchant, at Donora, with liabilities at $5,465.24 and assets $4,206.14.

Executions issued: Miss J. E. Kenney vs. Patrick Casey, $2,077; John G. Warren vs. A. A. Johnson, $1,555; Pittsburgh Brewing Company vs. Patrick Casey, $1,100; same vs. same, $4,741.

Grateful to Judge and Lawyer.

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of managers of the Western Pennsylvania Humane association yesterday afternoon a resolution was adopted rendering a vote of thanks to ex-Judge Wallace and ex-District Attorney Charles E. Mehard of Lawrence county, for services rendered the society in the prosecution of cases at New Castle.

THEATERS NEXT WEEK.

Variety That Includes Grand Opera, Farce, Melodrama and Burlesque at Local Playhouses.

Grand opera in English by the Henry W. Savage Opera Company is the offering at the Nixon next week. The repertoire will include a splendid scenic production of "The Valkyrie" on Monday evening and then "Aida," "Rigoletto," "Faust" and "Lohengrin." "The Valkyrie" will be repeated at the Wednesday matinee.

The announcement that "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," the most emphatic comedy success of late years, which has made hundreds of thousands of theater-goers in New York and Chicago laugh for over a year, is to come to the Belasco theater next week, is causing considerable interest owing to the high class of this attraction. Mr. Harry Conor, a well known Hoyt player, and Mr. George Probert, late of the Harry Davis Stock Company of this city, are among the players.

"In New York Town," Hurtig & Seamon's spectacle, on its cross-country tour, is to be presented during the coming week at the Alvin. The score contains many catchy songs and the company and production is said to be unusually strong and attractive.

At the Grand next week Richard Golden in a vaudeville version of "Old Jed Prouty," the famous New England play, which was Golden's starring vehicle for over a decade, will head a bill of 15 acts that promises to be unusually good. Others in it are Murphy & Nichols in "From Zaza to Uncle Tom," and Staley & Birbeck in their great musical transformation.

A play that can remain a strong drawing card with the theater-going public for 20 odd years, must indeed be something out of the ordinary, and such can be said of the famous melodrama, "Shadows of a Great City," which is to be seen at the Empire theater uptown all next week. The production this season is said to be the most elaborate ever given the play.

Among the best of the many attractions of the burlesque field on the road this season is the "High Rollers" company, which will play an engagement at the Gayety theater next week. A special feature will be the International Women wrestlers, who created such a sensation at the Gayety earlier in the season.

If jingling, catchy music, clean and wholesome fun, clever comedians, soubrettes, entertaining specialties, excellent light and scenic effects, novelties, surprises and tableaus count for anything, the "Kentucky Belles," the well-known burlesque organization, is certain to create a sensation when it comes to the Academy next week.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists, and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.

SOCIETY

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

ONE of the season's ultra-fashionable events for the debutante set, was Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne's theater party and supper last evening in honor of Miss Elizabeth C. Hamilton. Although Miss Hamilton is to have several entertainments in her honor, Mrs. Horne's theater party last evening was the first one given for her, and may, therefore, be called her "coming out." The guests were entertained at the Nixon theater, the play being followed by supper at the Duquesne club. The guests, with one or two exceptions, included only members of the debutante set, and were: Miss Hamilton, Miss Hester Singer, Miss Marjorie Rea, Miss Pauline Dilworth, Miss Margarita Frew, Miss Helen Willard Davis, Miss Evelyn Black, Miss Euphemia Bakewell, Miss Ruth Walker, Miss Marion Clapp, Miss Helen Witherow, Miss Margaret Hay, Miss Lyda MacKnight, Miss Elizabeth Irwin, Miss Martha Chambers, Miss Inez Warren, Miss Katherine Jennings, Miss Mary Jennings, Miss Helen G. Ayers, Miss Agnes Brown, Miss Florence McK. Gregg, Miss Harriet W. Balken, Miss Madeline F. Laughlin, Eben M. Byers, J. Frederic Byers, Donald Thompson, McCleane Brown, J. Alston Moorhead, Joseph Holmes, James Childs Rea, Arthur Scully, William Frew, James S. Irish, H. Wilfred DuPuy, Palmer Collins, E. Warren Kay, Moorhead Holland, Raymond Holland, McKee Graham, William Craig Chaplin, Charles G. Wood, Jr., Ralph Richards, John T. Scott, James S. Stumbird, Jr., Dilworth Lupton, Christopher Magee Anderson, Henry Irwin, John C. Dilworth and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Robinson. Special programs had been prepared for the members of the party. They were bound in white and embossed in gold with Miss Hamilton's monogram and tied with pale green ribbons. The place cards for the reception were also monogramed in gold, under the monogram being the date, while above the name was the letter H in gold. The one round table used for the supper occupied three rooms in the club, and the effect of the decorations was most pleasing. In the center of the table and at either end was a mound of delicate maidenhair ferns, between which stood beds of crimson poinsetti so suggestive of the holiday season. At intervals over the table ivy cornucopiae filled to overflowing with rosy-cheeked apples and luscious grapes in huge bunches.

Mrs. Morton is Hostess.

Mrs. Howard Morton's tea yesterday in honor of Mrs. J. Bosworth McCready, was a charmingly appointed affair. The hostess, in a gown of white crepe de chine and point lace and her honor guest in apricot boudoir with lace bodice trimmed in pink embroidery, received together, assisted by Mrs. Abram Garrison Holmes, Mrs. Roy B. McKee, Miss Lillian Morris, Miss Winifred Bedell, Mrs. Edward Sullivan, Mrs. Walter Chess, Mrs. E. Hudson Young, Miss Anna Ouster, Miss Jean Stone, Mrs. John Fremont Shafer and Mrs. Randal Morton, who poured tea. A number of palms were placed about the hall and the various other apartments, and all the lights had crimson chrysanthemum shades. A basket filled with white chrysanthemums and deep red velvety carnations occupied one end of the drawing-room mantel, and the piano had an effective banking of the same flowers. The orchestra was screened in the hall where the mantel was adorned with the red and white blossoms, but particularly attractive was the centerpiece on the tea table. It was formed of dainty candy-tuft and scarlet carnations from which radiated sprays of asparagus springerii. The tea, from 4 o'clock until 8, was followed by a dinner for the younger aids and an equal number of men. Miss Stone left immediately after the dinner for Harrisburg, where she goes to spend Thanksgiving with friends.

Tea, Luncheon and Theater Party.

Miss Madeline M. Steinmeyer, who will make her formal bow to society on Saturday at the tea her mother, Mrs. William Steinmeyer, is to give, will entertain her aids at a luncheon and theater party next Wednesday afternoon. The luncheon will be given at the home of the hostess in Wellingford street, Shadyside, and will be followed by the theater party at the Nixon. The tea will be conducted at Mrs. Steinmeyer's home from 3 until 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, with a list of aids including Mrs. James R. Macfarlane, Mrs. James Darsie, Mrs. John Farrell, Mrs. W. W. Wattles, Mrs. W. T. Whitman, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Mrs. E. H. Myers, Jr., Mrs. Daniel C. Ripley, Mrs. J. B. Kaercher, Mrs. Frank McCune, Mrs. E. E. Seibert, Mrs. James Cappel, Mrs. J. A. Scott, Mrs. E. G. Hartje, Mrs. W. M. Rea, Miss Lillian Baird of Cambridge, Miss Anna Graff of Kittanning and Miss Day Gordon of Natrona, Pa., all of whom will be house guests of Miss Steinmeyer; Miss May Elizabeth Ripley, Miss Louise Snecop, Miss Margaret Lawrence, Miss Ella Stevenson, Miss Jessie Mateknecht, Miss Florence Dangerfield, Mrs. D. Hicks and Miss Marguerite Scott.

Hewitt, Mrs. W. C. Mellor, Mrs. A. B. Fornicrook, Mrs. J. C. Hill, Mrs. E. J. Lloyd, Mrs. J. H. Wheeler and Mrs. J. B. Gresham.

George-Vernon.

A pretty wedding last evening was that of Miss Katherine George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. George of Winthrop street, and Charles J. Vernon, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents at 6 o'clock. The Rev. C. S. Beatty, pastor of the Oakland Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of about 40 guests. The bride was attended by Miss Rose Kaltenborn, a cousin, while William Harnett acted as best man. The bride wore a gown of sheer white and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. After the supper Mr. and Mrs. Vernon left on their wedding trip. They will be at home after December 21 in this city.

Local Girls Out of Town.

Miss Olive Munroe of Sheffield street, Allegheny, left the city on Tuesday for Toledo, O., to be maid of honor at the wedding this evening of Miss Edith Dithridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Dithridge of Toledo, and Roscoe Mitchell of New Brighton. It is to be a home wedding at 8 o'clock, and many Pittsburghers will be interested, as the Dithridges are former residents of this city. Mr. Mitchell's relatives from New Brighton will attend the ceremony.

Miss Hannah McClurg Watson was in Washington, D. C., yesterday serving as maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Mary C. Henry of that city and Percy Smoot of Boston.

First Dance in Series.

Members of Pittsburgh commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, gave the first in a series of winter dances in Syria temple last evening. The affair was marked by beautiful decorations of chrysanthemums and greens. The stairs were wound with smilax from the first floor to the top of the building, and the ballroom was especially attractive. The committee included William J. Griffith, Edward Lewis, Ira Edmundson, Jr., James W. Barber, Charles Moore, George Dickson and J. Harry Dimling. The second in the series will be given on the eve of Washington's birthday, February 21, 1906.

Thanksgiving Day Concert.

The Epworth League choir of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, will give a concert this evening. The program will be given by Miss Gertrude Sykes, soprano; E. Curtis Clark, basso; Miss Anna T. Sheriff, reader; Miss Edna M. Sharp, pianist; Miss Frances Leech, organist, and Charles N. Boyd, director. The Rev. Dr. C. W. Stodgett will read the President's Thanksgiving proclamation. A feature of the program will be the last number, "Fair Ellen," given by Miss Sykes, Mr. Clarke and the chorus. "Fair Ellen" is a musical setting of the Relief of Lucknow.

Mrs. Trainor to Entertain.

Mrs. William Booth Trainor of Northumberland avenue, Squirrel Hill, has issued invitations for a card party on the afternoon of Friday, December 8. The affair, which will be rather small and informal, has been planned in honor of Mrs. Houghton of Geneva, N. Y., who comes on Monday to be Mrs. Trainor's house guest for a time. She visited Mrs. Trainor while the latter was Miss Marina D. Dalzell of Allegheny, and has many friends in the two cities. Bridge will be the game played.

Beckman-Bott.

The wedding of Miss Marguerite Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beckman of Steuben avenue, Crafton, and Eugene Bott of Crafton, will take place this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Philip's Catholic church, with the Rev. Father W. C. Kelly officiating. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Brown's Cards Recalled.

Mrs. John D. Brown of Stratford avenue has recalled the invitations for her tea which she was to have given on Tuesday afternoon, December 5. The tea, which was to have been followed by an evening card party, was planned in honor of Mrs. Frank W. Shepard, Mrs. Brown's sister-in-law, on account of whose illness the cards have been recalled. The tea will be given, however, as soon as Mrs. Shepard's health will permit.

Mr. and Mrs. Schiller's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boom Schiller gave an informal dinner at their home in Forbes street last evening. There was no special guest of honor and the dinner, though informal, was one of beautiful appointments. Covers were laid for 14, the guests including Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Childs, Mr. and Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, Mr. and Mrs. William Nimick Frew, Mr. and Mrs. James McCrea and Mr. and Mrs. Augustus P. Burgwin. The decorations were in white chrysanthemums.

Bridal Couple Home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton have returned from their wedding trip and are now at home to their friends at their residence in Bayard street, Shadyside. Mrs. Hamilton will be remembered as Miss Mary Cornwell of West Chester, Pa., a bride of a month ago. She and her husband spent their honeymoon at Colorado Springs and other points of interest in the west.

THE CLUBS

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

Sunshine on Thanksgiving Day.

A number of the women's clubs, sunshine societies and benevolent organizations do a systematic work of relief and cheer on Thanksgiving day. Yesterday the Sisterhood of Calvary Episcopal church distributed 43 baskets to as many families, each basket containing a turkey and the other things needed for the Thanksgiving dinner. They were sent to families which otherwise would have no Thanksgiving dinner. Five additional baskets were sent by the Sisterhood to the St. Barnabas Home for Convalescents at Carrick, where there are at present 16 patients. Last year 50 baskets were distributed, but the need does not seem to be so great this season. The Altar society of Trinity Episcopal church made its annual distribution of Thanksgiving dinner baskets, 18 in number. A similar distribution was also made by the Altar society of the Church of the Ascension. The Relief club of the East End, composed of young women in the parish of the Sacred Heart church, has under its care about 50 poor families, among whom the young women distributed baskets of good things yesterday.

The Sunshine society does but little in the way of distributing relief, but its members will today visit those who are shut in, the day being no exception in the work which is done by the members of the various Sunshine auxiliaries who systematically visit the sick and crippled. The recent organization of the joint committee of Women's clubs and benevolent organizations of Wilkinsburg yesterday found a number of cases for immediate relief. The New Era club, through its philanthropic department, does such work as is brought to its attention, while in the Columbian Council of Jewish Women each member of the committee on philanthropy, so far as it lies in her power, holds herself responsible for the welfare of some poor family whom she takes under her care. If supplies are needed or some one of the family is in need of work she interests herself to meet that need, the aim being to place the family on a self-supporting basis rather than to pauperize it. In all of the homes for the aged in the Pittsburgh district there will be special services, a big Thanksgiving day dinner, the dinner being provided by the boards of managers. In the Children's hospital and the Orphans' home there will be similar festivities.

Contribute to Russian Relief Fund.

At the next meeting of the Columbia Council of Jewish Women, which will be held on Thursday afternoon, December 28, the manner of contributing to the fund for the relief of the victims of the recent outrages in Russia will be decided upon. The council will make a contribution, but has not yet decided whether it shall be in the form of a personal contribution from each woman in the council or be an official donation drawn from the council's treasury. If the latter plan be adopted the contribution will be taken from the fund created by the benefit entertainment of Biblical tableaux, which will be presented in the Nixon theater on Sunday, January 14. This action will be taken with appropriateness on December 28, as that afternoon Miss Elizabeth Hirshfield, principal of the Lafayette school of Buffalo, N. Y., will lecture before the council on "Russia." Miss Hirshfield recently visited Russia, and her lecture will be replete with personal experiences and impression gained while in that country.

The board of directors of the Columbia Council of Jewish Women met yesterday and completed the list of delegates and alternates to represent the Pittsburgh and Allegheny section in the triennial convention of the National Council of Jewish Women, which will be held in Chicago, December 5 to 12. Mrs. Hugo Rosenberg will attend as vice president of the national council, and the Pittsburgh delegates will be Mrs. Enoch Rauh, president of the local council, and Mrs. M. Rauslander. Miss Hattie Baumgarten will be Mrs. Rauh's alternate, Mrs. M. Spiro being Mrs. Rauslander's. Yesterday two additional alternates were elected—Mrs. Albert Blumberg and Mrs. A. Leo Weil. One of the important subjects to be considered at the Chicago convention will be some method to prepare for and meet the tremendous influx of Jewish immigrants from Russia and Poland, so that they will not overwhelm and paralyze the present arrangements made for their reception and distribution over the country.

Civic Club Anniversary.

The 10th anniversary of the Civic club of Allegheny county was held last night in the rooms of the Twentieth Century club, and officers were elected. The feature of the evening was an address with stereopticon views showing results of efforts along lines of civic improvements in various cities by E. C. Routzahn, secretary of the Bureau of Civic Co-Operation of Chicago. The board of bath house managers reported that the baths maintained by the club were more than self-supporting and that in the past year $640.19 was realized from them. It was also reported that the fund for building the bathhouse in the Soho district was all collected with the exception of about $6,000. Announcement was made of the appointment by Gov. Pennypacker of the Hon. William M. Kennedy and County Commissioner Charles B. Price, both of whom are members of the club, to serve on the board of 10, which will represent Pennsylvania at the coming conference in New York on immigration. Resolutions were adopted favoring the municipal ownership of the Pittsburgh subways, favoring the preservation of Niagara Falls and the passage of a national pure food law. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Kate C. MacKnight; first vice president, Hon. W. M. Kennedy; second vice president, Mrs. Franklin P. Sims; treasurer, Mrs. William Thaw, Jr.; recording secretary, Miss H. M. Dermitt; corresponding secretary, Miss H. J. Patterson; directors, Mrs. William MacFarm, J. Boyd Duff, Mrs. W. L. Davis, Mrs. Alfred Longmore, Miss Helen Grimes, Mrs. W. C. Lyne, Dr. E. H. Heckel, Mrs. R. B. Scandrett, Mrs. William T. Whitman, C. B. Price, Mrs. W. W. Wishart, Mrs. Albert Pettit, Mrs. Ogden Edwards, Frederic Russell, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, Mrs. George H. Wilson, Mrs. George B. Motheral, Miss Isabel McClung, Charles L. Prendle, board of bath house managers, Mrs. Albert Pettit, Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., Mrs. Alfred Longmore, H. D. Mason, Dr. Elizabeth L. Martin, Mrs. Harrison Craver, Mrs. John Fremont Steele, Mrs. James C. Disk, Charles E. Willock, Mrs. James Lockhart.

Training School Work.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Woods of Sewickley gave the second of a series of informal receptions and talks at their home last evening. Dr. Pearson, a professor of the Harold Mann training schools of New York was the honor guest and gave a delightful talk on "Primary Work of the Horace Mann Training Schools." The guests were all from the Sewickley valley and included those interested in training school work.

Prof. Libby Lectures.

The Women's club of Sewickley enjoyed a special treat yesterday at the meeting in the Edgeworth club, when Professor William Libby of Princeton university delivered an enjoyable lecture on "Lost Cities of Palestine." He illustrated his talk with stereopticon views.

Visiting the Art Gallery.

A little party of New Era club women last evening visited the Carnegie art gallery under the leadership of M. Raymond Gros. They made a systematic study of the paintings, contrasting the work of the various schools and noting those paintings which seemed to meet with the most favor from the public.

Already Planning for Christmas.

The Sisterhood of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church in the East End expects next week to dress 60 dolls to be sent to the kindergarten for the children at Christmas. They will go to the Alice McFarland Memorial in Logan street. The Sisterhood will also send 20 dolls dressed in the latest styles to Kingsley house for the annual Christmas celebration.

Korean Minister is Coming to the United States With Message for Mr. Roosevelt.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—The Korean minister, Min Yeung-Tchan, will sail tomorrow for the United States, to present to President Roosevelt a message from the emperor of Korea asking the United States not to sever diplomatic relations with Korea. He said in case his mission was unsuccessful it would mean the end of the Korean government and Korean nationality.

The Koreans, the minister added, do not decline to recognize Japan's predomination in Korea, but they do not wish to see their methods, institutions and customs transformed into Japanese methods.

BULLS WERE UNDISMAYED BY FLURRY IN MONEY

Reports of a Serious Condition in Russia Also Ignored by Wall Street—Sharp Rise in Pittsburgh Coal Preferred Locally.

By JOHN O. BACLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday was not quite so active as on previous days of the week, the sales footing up 1,167,000 shares. Nevertheless, there were periods of excitement in the market and a number of stocks established new high records.

Late in the afternoon there was a little flurry in the call loan market, and the rate touched 10 per cent, the final loan being at 8 per cent. Inasmuch as loans made yesterday carry over for two days, and the end of the month requirements cause large shifting of loans, together with the fact that subscriptions were being made to the Japanese loan, the movement in money was not regarded as particularly significant. At all events the rise had only a temporary influence upon the stock market.

The foreign news which came to hand late in the session was more disturbing than any this week. It was reported that the St. Petersburg bourse was the scene of frantic selling of securities, induced by the fact that a run on the Moscow and St. Petersburg banks had taken place. Details were lacking, but it is inferred that the large emigration of the wealthier classes from the scenes of disturbance, was accompanied by a withdrawal of funds from the Russian banks to be redeposited in foreign banks. Russian bonds on the Paris bourse were reported down 1 per cent to 86¾, the lowest of the year, and in the London curb market at 7 o'clock last evening, which would correspond with 2 o'clock New York time, American securities were reported to be weak and lower.

The New York market held its own remarkably well, in view of this news and the fact that the exchange will remain closed today. At the opening prices were lower, and some of the specialties which have been particularly active as leaders of the advance reacted sharply. Tennessee Coal and Iron broke from 122½ to 118, but later recovered to 124¾, and closed at 123, which was unchanged from the previous close. National Lead opened at 68¾, declined to 68, and then shot up to 74¾, the highest ever quoted. Amalgamated Copper made a new high mark on this movement by advancing to 80¾, and closed with a net gain of ¾ per cent. Anaconda Copper closed ½ higher for the day. No change occurred in the metal market, which was reported firm at the recent advance.

The railroad equipment stocks were more active and all of them advanced, but they did not retain all the gain at the close. United States Steel stocks were rather heavy most of the day, and the common closed at a loss of ¼ per cent. The preferred declined to 104½, but recovered to 104¾ at the close.

There was much irregularity in the railroad list, and most of the standard issues closed lower. The largest decline was in St. Paul, which after selling at 180, declined to 177½, and closed at 178¾, a decline of 1¼ per cent from Tuesday's close. Union Pacific closed ½ lower and Southern Pacific ¾ lower. Canadian Pacific closed 1¾ per cent higher.

The anthracite coal stocks had the stimulus of the 10 per cent extra dividend declared by Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, which on a single transaction advanced 12½ per cent over Tuesday's closing bid. Reading was quite heavy at one time during the day and declined to 134½, but it rallied to 137⅞, and closed at 136¾. Baltimore & Ohio closed unchanged, and Pennsylvania ½ per cent lower at 140. In the final dealings a number of specialties were quite active, but the tone was irregular.

The local stock market was more animated than for weeks past, and the tone was decidedly firm. The largest advance in the industrial list was scored by Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which on sales of a little more than 500 shares advanced from 56 to 59 and closed at 58¾, a net gain for the day of 2¾ per cent. The common stock closed at 14. There were no transactions in River Coal preferred, but the price advanced to 24½ bid. American Sewer Pipe was another active feature, advancing to 34¾ on sales of 1,345 shares, and closing at the best. Crucible Steel common rallied to 13½ at the close, while the preferred after selling at 93¾, rallied to 98¾. National Fire Proofing preferred rallied to 28¾ and the common to 9, and both closed at the best. The strength was based upon the reported improvement in the company's business. Independent Brewing common and preferred each closed ¼ higher. Lustre Mining was strong, advancing to 32¾ at the close. Philadelphia Company common was moderately active and closed firm at 52. The Westinghouse issues were dull but firm. Air Brake closed higher at 158 bid. Allegheny National bank sold at 120, a decline of 10 points from the last previous sale. Colonial Trust sold at 340@350, the latter an advance of 15 points. The general market closed active and firm.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for November exceeded $212,000,000, the largest total for any corresponding month in the history of the clearing. The increase over the same month last year was nearly $15,000,000, while the increase over November, 1903, was nearly $62,000,000. The total to date is $418,000,000 more than for the 11 months of 1904, and exceeds by $89,000,000 the best previous record. The local stock market made a very small contribution to these figures during the month just closed, trading being excessively dull. The industrial and commercial business cleared through the local clearing house, however, has been the largest ever transacted, and there is every indication of the activity being maintained for months to come.

With the Thanksgiving holiday coming on the last day of the month, preparations for the December 1 settlements made themselves felt in the New York money market yesterday. The shifting of accounts incident to these preparations resulted in running the call money rate up to 10 per cent. The day's report of sub-treasury operations showed losses to that institution extended to nearly $3,500,000 for the week. New York exchange at Chicago hung at par, marking the subsidence of the cash movement from that center.

All banks, stock exchanges and grain markets will remain closed today.

A good local demand was reported for Pittsburgh and Montana Copper, and 14 was bid at the close on the curb. It is reported that the company recently made its first shipment of blister copper, consisting of six carloads which netted $102,000.

It was current gossip that the resumption of buiding of Sewer Pipe was due to a belief that the stock which has been hanging over the market recently has been liquidated, and that based upon the dividend return there is room for a further advance.

The closing half hour on the local stock exchange yesterday was more animated than for weeks past. The revival of a demand for Pittsburgh Coal preferred was the most interesting feature of the dealings, and the ease which the stock advanced was a pleasant surprise. Lustre Mining also responded to a fair demand and advanced 1¾ points. Taking the local list all the way through it is in a much safer position than the New York list. So far, however, Pittsburgh brokers are not felt disposed to encourage trading because of the narrowness of the local market.

The regular quarterly dividend was declared on Chicago & Northwestern preferred, 2 per cent, and regular semi-annual dividend 2½ per cent on common.

Canadian Pacific was one of the strongest of the railroad stocks yesterday and closed at a good net advance. It had the benefit of the October statement of earnings, which showed an increase of $378,805 in gross and an increase of $261,957 in net. For four months of the fiscal year gross earnings have increased $2,188,341 and net has increased $1,466,000.

Gross earnings of Chesapeake & Ohio for October increased $242,198 and net increased $129,882.

Gross earnings of the Rock Island system, including the Frisco, for October, increased $401,218. Net earnings decreased $194,161.

The Chicago Junction Railways and Union Stock Yards Company has declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1½ per cent on its preferred stock, and 2 per cent on common stock, payable January 2.

Directors of American Sewer Pipe Company will meet about December 20 to declare the January dividend.

The International Paper Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable January 2, to stock of record December 14.

The directors of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western yesterday declared an extra dividend of 10 per cent on its stock. At this time last year the company declared a similar extra dividend. The dividend is payable December 16 to stock of record December 4.

Marwick, Mitchell & Company, chartered accountants, have resumed as partners of their firm Mr. David H. Kerr, C. A., and Mr. Archibald Bowman, C. A., and have opened branch offices at 248 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the immediate supervision of Mr. Kerr.

Commenting upon the flurry in money, Henry Sprout & Co.'s correspondent wired this protest: "It is difficult to speak of today's market without reference to the artificial and wholly misleading character of the money market and to the motives lying behind that species of philanthropy. We think a little daylight into the causes and effects of the violent moves of money in this market, which is the only market in the world where such things are permitted, would cause an awakening in high places and put an end to a scandal that makes us the laughing stock of the world's markets."

The early slump in Tennessee Coal and Sloss-Sheffield Steel caused apprehension of disastrous consequences to the speculative holders in the stock. There was a fear that the contest in the open market, if there was one, had been completed by the acquisition of a majority of holdings of Tennessee Coal, and that the market for the minority of the stock would be allowed to take care of itself. The persistent heaviness of the United States Steel stocks in face of the upward movement in iron and steel industrials is in spite of the rumor industriously circulated that the control of these independent companies is sought on behalf of that corporation.

A St. Paul official says that the financial plans for the road's extension to the coast may not be announced till the spring. The company has ample funds for preliminary work.

The December circular of National City bank of New York points out the probabilities of the issue of bonds provided for by the Hepburn act for the purpose of building the Panama canal, the secretary of the treasury not being able at the present time to comply with the provisions of that act which directs him to sell the bonds from time to time at not less than par. With the existing appropriation showing a balance of only a few hundred thousand dollars, and with obligations incurred besides amounting to $10,500,000, it is necessary for congress to take prompt action in the premises. This prospect of a large addition to the supply of bonds available for circulation purposes has already begun to have an effect upon the market.

Already applications have been entered to retire $2,000,000 currency during December, and a like amount during January. On November bond-secured circulation passed the $500,000,000 mark for the first time in the history of the national bank act.

JUMP IN BARS MAY LEAD MARKET

Steel Men Say They Will Not Follow Iron Advance, but Others Say They Must.

The steel and iron market, in both basic and finished lines, remains firm and strong, with mills running from 20 to 90 days behind orders and the output contracted for months ahead.

The advance of iron bars to $2.00 at Youngstown and $2.05 in Pittsburgh has placed the market in a peculiar condition. Steel bars are quoted at the pool rate of $1.50. This difference in price warrants steel men in believing consumers will place contracts for steel bars instead of iron bars, whenever they are able to do so, and look for an increased business in steel bars for future delivery—none being at present available. They claim that the present quotable price of $1.50 will hold.

On the other hand, the iron men, who are sold away ahead on bars, say they are willing to lose business for a time in order to catch up. They believe that while steel bars are being quoted at $1.50 they are really bringing $1.86. Announce their conviction that the present quotations of steel bars at $1.50 cannot possibly last and are willing to take the initiative in raising prices. It is also said that structural steel, quoted at $1.70, is salable and is being bought for $1.80 and $2.00, where are many men in the market who believe the efforts of producers to check an advance in price will fail, and that the first of the year will see higher prices in all grades.

Inasmuch from market remains strong, with active demand. Prices have been firm generally, while No. 2 foundry is now quotable up to Bessemer at $17.50 to $18.00.

The coke market remains strong at current prices, with Connelisville furnace selling up to $3.10 and softer grades around $2.75. Sellers men look for a sudden jump in price in December should snow flurries and stormy weather prevail and retard the movement of cars.

"Once there is a break in the present smooth movement of freight," said an operator yesterday, "the prices will advance and there will be a scramble for coke."

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business continues to move along in a very good manner. Orders for practically all lines of goods coming in freely and coming in for good quantities, and with the urgent requests for early shipments. A very good demand is being felt for fancy goods, cutlery and silverware, together with other lines that are used by the hardware trade at the holiday time. A continued good business comes in on ammunition and on shotguns and rifles. Nails and wire continue to move out in very good quantities, the trade evidently buying to cover against the higher prices. The demand for window glass is very much better than it has been for some time, doubtless due to the low prices prevailing. Stocks are moving very freely, doubtless putting the retail dealer in good shape for winter business. Manufacturers generally report a very good demand for lines, so that prices are very firm.

The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations: Columbia pocket knives, discount, 35 per cent; Ahlon hatchets, discount, 40 and 5 per cent; Bindley cabel shovels, $6.50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount, 70, 10 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base No. 28, $2.95 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount, 70 and 10 per cent; cash weights, the ton, $27.00; window glass, first three brackets, 90 and 30 per cent; above, 90 and 20 per cent; Ahlon sawing machines, discounts, 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 5 per cent; Ahlon hot plates, 40 per cent; Ahlon lanterns, 40 per cent; bay forks, 60 per cent.

PIG IRON QUIETING, BUT STILL IS STRONG

Better Supply of Cars Causes Softening of Coke—Ore Prices Sustain Good Advance.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

So far as pig iron is concerned, the markets have quieted down. There have been few large transactions in foundry grades.

For the first time in many months there has been a softening in the price of coke, due to the fact that makers have rushed every available unit of plant into commission and that there has been a better supply of cars. In the lake ore trade the movement which began some time ago with the booking of one large firm at an advance of 25 cents per ton over last year has spread and buyers and sellers have met on the basis of an advance of 50 cents per ton, which makes the basis for Bessemer old range $4.25 for the next season.

The principal iron mills have decreed a further advance of $2 per ton, which puts the price to $1.85 Pittsburgh.

Turpentine and Rosin.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 29.—Spirits turpentine steady, unchanged. Rosin steady, unchanged. Tar firm, $1.80. Crude turpentine steady, $2.40 and $2.90.

SAVANNAH, GA., Nov. 29.—Turpentine firm, 60c. Rosin firm; quote A, B, C, $2.57½; D, E, $2.70; F, $2.82½; H, $3.00; I, $3.12½; K, $3.37½; M, $4.87½; N, $4.75; WG, $5.00; WW, $5.25.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 29.—Turpentine and rosin, nothing doing.

TURKEYS HAVE CALL IN THE LOCAL MARKET

Of course the greatest activity yesterday in the market was in turkeys. Despite the damp weather, buyers were around early and sales were heavy. During the early part of the day turkeys were lowered in price. Eighteen and 20 cents a pound was the price asked for dressed stock, while live ones went at 15 and 16 cents a pound. The cold wave due to arrive today is a little late to aid the merchants, as the weather has been very mild during the entire turkey buying and selling time. Had the weather been cold during the last two days there is no doubt the prices would have been much higher yesterday.

A Thanksgiving dinner is hardly complete without cranberries, and large sales were made of this article during the entire day. The stock of cranberries this year is just medium, and the goods of fine quality brought better than the outside quotations. Last year the berries were of good quality and very cheap, and consequently a number of protests were heard yesterday when the price was mentioned, but nevertheless it was paid, as the women had to have them. Another article which will look good on the table today is celery, and a large amount of this was disposed of yesterday by the merchants. The general stock this year has a good appearance and runs much better than the usual supply. Fancy apples found a very good sale and the market was firm, quotations showing no material change. Grapes are pretty well cleaned up and good prices are being asked for the remaining supply.

The scarcity of high-grade fresh-gathered eggs keeps the prices in this market up. Holidays as a usual thing have an unfavorable effect on the market and this year is no exception.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 12 cars corn, 4 cars oats, 2 cars feed, 1 car hay; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 2 cars corn, 2 cars hay, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars corn, 1 car rye.

The leading feature of the market yesterday was the strong demand for everything, with the exception of corn. Receipts were very light during the day, corn being the heaviest. There were few changes in prices. Bran advanced.

RUSSIAN SITUATION HOLDS UP GRAIN PRICE

Uncertainty in the Czar's Kingdom Makes Condition the Same in Wheat Pit.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—From start to finish the wheat market showed decided strength. During the first half of the session trading was active, but later in the day the volume of business was very small. Shorts and commission houses were the principal bidders, the greatest demand coming from the shorts, some of whom were unwilling to take the chance of any possible Russian developments which might arise during the Thanksgiving day recess. An advance of 5@6d at Liverpool was largely the result of reports of frost outbreaks in that country, and the short element here did not care to risk the possibility of further disturbances. According to advices from Argentina, harvesting has been largely delayed by wet weather. Reports of a blizzard in the northwest which would check the movement of wheat to market, and the prediction of a cold wave in the southwest, which might injure the fall-sown crop, also tended to increase prices. In addition to these influences cash wheat was in active demand at all grain centers in the United States. The market closed strong with prices fractionally at the highest point of the day. May opened 2@2¼c to 2½@2¾c higher at 87¾@88c, advanced to 88¼@88¾c, and closed at 88¼c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 218,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 634,000 bushels, against 883,000 bushels one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 593 cars, against 1,058 cars last week and 567 cars one year ago.

Trading in the corn pit showed little activity, but the market had a firm undertone. The strength of wheat caused considerable covering by shorts. There was also considerable purchasing by commission houses. The market closed firm. May opened unchanged to ¼c higher at 44@44¼c, sold up to 44¾c and closed at 44¾c. Local receipts were 184 cars, with one of contract grade.

Oats were firm in sympathy with other grains. Elevator interests took all of the December option that was offered. Local shorts were the chief buyers of May. The May option opened unchanged to a shade higher at 31⅞c to 31¾@32c, sold up to 32c and closed at 31¾@32c. Local receipts were 125 cars.

Unusual activity marked the trading in provisions. General demand both for local and outside account caused a firm feeling which held throughout the day. Demand from shorts was even more urgent than that shown yesterday. An advance of 5@10c in the price of live hogs created considerable bullish sentiment. The market closed strong, with prices at about the highest point of the day. May pork closed at a gain of 22½c at $12.85. Lard was up 7½c at $7.42½. Ribs be higher at $7.22½@7.30. Estimated receipts for Friday: Wheat, 82 cars; corn, 295 cars; oats, 258 cars; hogs, $4,000 head.

The Board of Trade will be closed tomorrow on account of it being Thanksgiving day.

The leading futures as reported by John D. Armstrong & Co., Farmers Bank building, Pittsburgh, members of the Chicago board of trade, ranged as follows:

TONNAGE GROWS 127 PER CENT

Conditions Point to Pittsburgh Reaching 100,000,000 Mark This Year.

WELL-KNOWN OFFICERS HERE

An increase of 127.3 per cent in the tonnage of Pittsburgh in eight years seems almost unbelievable, but conservative railroad men and others in touch with the great traffic movement of this year are feeling pretty certain that the tonnage will be near the 100,000,000 mark. In 1897, according to statistics compiled by the chamber of commerce of Pittsburgh, the tonnage was 43,897,718 for the railways and rivers. A couple of months ago a Pennsylvania railroad man predicted that the tonnage would be greater than 100,000,000 this year, and his prediction is being borne out in the records of the railroads of the district for the months of October and November.

All of the coal and ore-handling roads have hauled more of these products in the past two months than in any similar period in local transportation history. Lake navigation will close December 6, so far as the insurance companies protecting cargoes is concerned, but the railroads will continue to deliver coal to the lakes and receive ore, the lake steamers operating at their owners' risk for at least a couple of weeks after the above date. In addition to this the railroads will make use of the all-rail route between Pittsburgh and the northwest. The finished product tonnage from the Pittsburgh steel mills will be far ahead of any previous year.

At the request of a number of railroad officers, The Gazette gives herewith chamber of commerce statistics for the past eight years, the tonnage for last year being estimated in round figures:

	R'roads.	Rivers.	Total Tonnage.
1897	36,879,415	7,018,303	43,897,718
1898	39,387,825	7,487,243	46,875,168
1899	49,477,211	9,151,486	58,628,697
1900	57,005,863	8,452,166	65,458,671
1901	64,125,000	9,000,000	73,125,000
1902	76,950,000	11,000,000	87,950,000
1903	79,750,000	10,000,000	89,750,000
1904	77,750,000	10,000,000	87,750,000

For the present year to the close of October, the Bessemer & Lake Erie's tonnage was greater than for all of last year, thus giving two months of excess toward the 100,000,000 mark. The other local roads have had like increases in ore and coal tonnage this year and the movement is continuing to increase daily. The car supply has not grown worse, but improvements have been noticed on the lines. The Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania hauled past Conemaugh a total of 110,949 cars from November 1 to 27, inclusive, a gain of 18,576 cars, or of 20 per cent over the movement for the same period last year. The increase in loaded cars was 12,981 for the same period, or 19 per cent. Officers of all roads are endeavoring to make November a record month in tonnage handled at Pittsburgh.

Prominent Railroad Men Here.

Three leading officers of the New York Central lines, including Freight Traffic Manager E. B. Mitchell of the lines west of Buffalo, of Chicago; General Freight Agent G. B. Wheeler of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, of Cleveland, and General Freight Agent W. C. Rowley of the Michigan Central, of Detroit, were entertained here yesterday by the local officers of the New York Central lines, General Freight Agent Terry of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, General Agent Hurd of the Lake Shore, Commercial Agent Beal of the Michigan Central and District Traveling Freight Agent Lynch of the Nickel Plate. Another visitor was A. W. Street, general eastern freight agent of the Great Northern railway, who conferred with District Freight Agent Harry G. Dow.

Pennsylvania Man Goes to Lake Shore.

Charles A. Griffin has been appointed rate clerk in the office of General Agent Hurd of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern in this territory. Mr. Griffin has for some time been connected with the general traffic offices of the Pennsylvania lines west.

The appointment of E. J. Dowie as industrial agent of the Lake Shore, effective December 1, is also announced. His offices will be at Cleveland.

Propose to Raise Custom Duties.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 29.—The colonial council of the Danish West Indies has proposed to the Danish government the raising of the customs duties there from three to five or six per cent, in order to cover the deficit in the budget of the islands. It is expected that a motion covering the suggestion will be submitted to the Rigsdag.

Fine Trains for Northwestern.

General Agent A. G. Tallant of the Chicago & Northwestern announced yesterday that on December 17 his road will establish additional fast train service between Chicago and Los Angeles, the new train to be known as the Los Angeles limited and to make the run in 68 hours. The route will be over the Northwestern line and the Union Pacific and San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake roads. The train will leave Chicago daily at 6 o'clock p. m., running through solid by way of Omaha, Cheyenne, Ogden and Salt Lake, reaching Los Angeles on the third day at 12:45 o'clock p. m. The equipment is the latest and best product of the Pullman shops. The cars are electric lighted and consist of standard double drawing-room sleeping cars, dining car and buffet observation car.

The Northwestern line has also received for its Northwestern limited, operating between Chicago and the Twin Cities, some of the most superb equipment ever built by the Pullman people. The cars are built with steel frames reinforced with heavy girders to secure great strength. The floors are inlaid with monolith so as to lessen the noise of the train to a minimum. This train is also electric lighted.

John Weller Honored by the Boys.

John F. Weller, one of the most popular of the young traffic men in Pittsburgh, was honored by 28 of his associates in the traffic offices of foreign roads yesterday. Mr. Weller has resigned as traveling freight agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad to become private secretary to General Superintendent Corey of the Donora plant of the United States Steel Corporation. His friends gave him a farewell dinner at the Hotel Anlo yesterday noon and presented him with a handsome ring.

Freight Statistician for P. R. R.

R. H. Head, who was chief clerk to the late S. M. Prevost, third vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been appointed statistician of the freight department, with offices at Philadelphia. This is a new position and was necessitated because of the increase of traffic. Mr. Head will collect and compile industrial and commercial statistics and handle subjects relating to the development of freight traffic along the lines of the company. He will report to Freight Traffic Manager Dixon.

Railroad Notes.

It is said that the Baltimore & Ohio is planning for new stations at McKeesport and West Pittsburgh for next year.

P. S. Feemer, agent for the Pennsylvania, Mr. Stewart has been placed in charge also of the new agency at Trafford City.

H. H. Stansell, traveling passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line railway left last night for this new headquarters at Washington.

Charles F. Wolfe, traveling freight agent of the Clover Leaf, was circulating among the local traffic men. He will spend Thanksgiving at his home in Bellevue.

Surveys credited to the Baltimore & Ohio and also hinted at as Wabash, are being made in the vicinity of Meyersdale. Local officers know nothing of the surveying party.

The Western Maryland, Gould's eastern line, has bought the Georges Creek & Cumberland railroad for $2,000,000. This is a coal road extending 37 miles from Cumberland to Lonaconing, Md.

Assistant Trainmaster W. M. Campbell of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley has been chosen chairman of the Valley branch of the Y. M. C. A. at Forty-third street to succeed W. J. Peebles.

J. W. Hathcoth, general agent of the Louisville & Nashville, and Charles H. Jackson, commercial freight agent of the Big Four, left last night for Central Kentucky, where they will hunt until Monday.

All of the Pittsburgh railroad offices excepting those necessary for handling the passenger and perishable freight traffic will be closed for Thanksgiving and the officers and clerks will enjoy the holiday. Perishable freight will be handled at some of the freight depots until 10 a. m.
